I will investigate how it was possible that, in spite of a contract from July 16, 1905, between the Herter Realty Co and P H Dugro, Jr., of a full settlement the above, judgment could be entered without any knowledge of any proceeding against the said company.

THIS bull market started in Wall Street in the beginning of 1904, since which time it has had to overcome more obstacles than would have seemed possible could they have been foreseen. First came the Baltimore fire, then the war between Japan and Russia, which kept the financial heart of the world in its throat until the Peace at Portsmouth. This was promptly followed by revolution, social and financial in Russia which made the war seem preferable by comparison. The market has been all the time living in daily fear of some new disconcerting utterances of Mr. Roosevelt. It never knows what new condition of things the President may hear of and make the subject of a message to Congress asking for new legislation according to his views. As former President Benjamin Harrison once said of Mr. Roosevelt, "He expects to remedy before night any condition of which he is first apprized the same morning." However, the bull market has with it this "uncertain quantity" every day, combined with wars, fires, earthquakes and occasional 100% money. To these things must be added what may be designated as the new national game of corporation baiting. It has been supposed that the Stock Exchange could be relied upon as an agency to make riches take wings, but it would seem that Mr. Roosevelt sees the need of special legislation to separate successful men from their money. Now this week we have the frightful San Francisco calamity, the latest of the disasters the financial markets have to contend with. Let it not be forgotten that if Wall Street should be forced to succumb at last, real estate and general business will follow fast enough. The mistake is often made by manufacturers and merchants of thinking that Wall Street's troubles have no interest for them. A man might as well be indifferent to his heart's action. Secretary Shaw keeps repeating that "the legitimate business interests of the country are not suffering," so far as he can observe. His fear that the deposit of money in the banks will find expression in a rise of prices in Wall Street, and that he will be charged with having brought about the rise is pitiful. Does he not know that Wall Street speculators find their profit in a fall as well as in a rise; that they are the only class in the country that can turn a financial storm to account; that the manufacturer, merchant, farmer and planter cannot go "short" of their own or neighbor's enterprises, but must fall if they cannot weather the financial storm? The Wall Street operator will give as much for advance information that Mr. Shaw is not going to act as he will for information that Mr. Shaw is going to act. Must the country suffer because the Secretary of the Treasury is trying to get even with the shifty and shuffling person, the Wall Street operator? Is not the country paying a pretty high price for Mr. Shaw's attempt to beat Wall Street. Without a great national bank such as England, France and Germany have—with banks that are but little more than heartless lending institutions, it is only necessary for this poor country to have a Shaw to be poor indeed. Last week we said, referring to the stock market, that it would be influenced entirely by the money rate, and it has been, and until money settles down it will continue to be. The market gives evidence every day that it wants to go up, and will do so when it has a chance, and when one has said this all has been said.

THE transforming touch of improving change has, within the past decade, reached practically every part of Manhattan, improving values in all neighborhoods and transforming them in many. An inconspicuous but still notable exception to this has been found in the river front section between Wall street and Corlears Hook at Grand street. The lower part of this city has borne for many years the designation of "The Swamp," as the headquarters of the wholesale leather business of New York, and a little further north the drug business, that is to say, the wholesale drug business, has been established for many years. But the bulk of the water front and of the property adjacent to the water front along the main streets between Wall and Grand and in those intersecting streets which they cross has had only a partial and imperfect development. On the corresponding portion of the West Side, between the Battery and 14th street, there have been enormous gains. That business follows commerce is an established rule downtown, and the development of the dock facilities of the lower West Side has brought shipping to it, and through shipping, warehouses, factories, railroad terminals, and wholesale houses. On the East Side the perils of navigation on the East River were for many years a bar to the growth of shipping, and the dearth of wharf developments in Brooklyn, opposite, had an unfavorable effect. Notwithstanding this, a considerable part of the Hudson River canal boat traffic is carried around the Battery to the East River, and some of the largest New England steamship lines running through the East River have their landing places on the Hudson.

THE development of Park avenue above 59th street will bear watching during the next few years. When the New York Central announced that it was going to run electric instead of steam cars through the tunnel, it was generally supposed that the avenue would become available as a site for expensive residences, and certain lots were bought and one or two houses built on that assumption. But the tendency to use the avenue in this way has not gained any headway; and recently there have been indications of another tendency in an opposite direction. Two sites between 60th and 80th streets have been bought, which will be improved by large fireproof apartment houses; and it looks as if any property on Park avenue in the residential section which is available for reimprovement would be used in this manner. The avenue can never become a handsome thoroughfare devoted to private residences, because so many of the corners are already improved with apartment houses, which are too expensive to be thrown into the scrap heap, and then the East Side really needs a thoroughfare in which apartment houses of largest size can be erected. Madison avenue is not well adapted to the purpose, because the lots are shallow. The corners are strongly held. Lexington avenue will doubtless be lined with many such buildings; but it is not wide enough to permit the erection of apartment houses of the largest size. Park avenue will be quieter than either Lexington or Madison avenue, and it is so wide that a twenty-story building could be erected, if desired. Such buildings are needed, because of the large and increasing numbers of people who want to live in that part of the city. These people may prefer private houses; but in the course of time all but the very wealthy will be forced to put up with apartments. The area in which such people care to live is very much restricted and there seems at present to be no chance of making it larger.

CONTRIBUTING to the growth of real estate values in Manhattan has been the development of local manufactures and the large increase in the number of factories in consequence. For many years the claim was continually made that high rents so far increased the cost of labor in New York that large manufactures could not withstand the competition of rival factories in suburban towns. New York had, relative to its size, few factories, though the chief factory interests of New York and New Jersey were directed from this city. With the readjustment of real estate values in neighboring New Jersey to the New York city standard, and with the increase of business in the lines in which New York excels—clothing, millinery and artificial flower-making, and printing and publishing, especially—there has been a decided change. By the last report of the State Department of Labor it was shown that of eight hundred and seventy-five thousand factory employees in New York State, over five hundred thousand were in New York city, and of these three hundred and seventy-five thousand in the two boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx. Of forty thousand office employees of factories (those serving at the headquarters of production), twenty-five thousand were in Manhattan and the Bronx. It has been found profitable and advantageous for manufacturers to secure buildings adapted to their use in New York close to the market of sale and with access to the vast skilled labor supply of New York recruited daily by thousands of newcomers able to work in many of the trades in which, already, New York excels. This has made a constant and increased demand for factory property and has increased corresponding the number of factory employees residing in New York.

GOVERNOR HIGGINS has finally "lined up" with the farmers. He has vetoed the Recording Tax Bill, and has thus shown himself in this matter to be indifferent to the vital interests of city real estate. In other words, he is more interested in the politics than in the economics of the situation. One cannot say that his veto message is without some force, but possibly the Governor could draw up a veto of the ten commandments and say something in favor of the negative side. If the Governor will undertake henceforth to veto every measure that comes before him that can be shown by the ingenious to be as defective as the Recording Tax Bill, his pen will be busy and scarcely a single new law will be added to the statute books. A new bill should be drawn up immediately and pressed in both Houses if only as a rebuke.

General Business and Real Estate.

NO TWO PERIODS of prosperity in general business could be more strongly contrasted than the period which culminated in 1902, and the period the fruits of which most Americans are now enjoying. The years 1901 and 1902 were years of gigantic financial and industrial reorganization. The great losses which had been sustained during the depression extending from 1893 to 1897 had convinced capitalists of the necessity of an industrial organization, which would serve in some measure to curtail the disastrous effects of excessive competition, and when business revived, a process of railroad and industrial consolidation was begun, which did not culminate until 1902. This work of consolidation was undertaken by the larger financiers and capitalists of the country; and it was their purposes and activity which stamped a certain character upon the whole period. The small business man and laborer profited by the large amount of business which was transacted; but people of moderate means were interested in the result of the reorganization rather than in the actual process thereof. They did not have any chance to contribute their share to the sum-total of business and speculative activity before this whole movement was abruptly and disastrously terminated in 1903.

In looking back, however, over these years it is manifest that the reaction of 1903 was no worse than it proved to be, largely because the man of moderate means had not during 1901 and 1902 been speculating and operating beyond his means. The depression of 1903 was felt most severely by rich men who had been interested in the financial reorganization of the preceding years and who were loaded up with securities as a result of these big schemes of corporate consolidation. They had overestimated the ability of the country to "digest" these securities, and they strained their own credit in the attempt to carry the load. The consequence was that they were obliged finally to reduce their burden, with the result, as we all know, that the prices of securities shrank rapidly to a point below their intrinsic value. But this collapse of the structure of prices in Wall Street had on the whole remarkably little effect on general business. The iron and steel trades felt it severely, because the railroads are their best customers, and because the railroad companies were obliged in consequence of the difficulty of obtaining new capital to curtail their expenditures; but the small business man was not badly hurt. The farmers continued to be prosperous. Railroad earnings did not diminish to any considerable extent. General business was for the most part large in volume and no less profitable. The result was that Wall Street quickly recovered from the consequence of its own excesses. Money which had been so scarce soon became plentiful again. The stock market recovered in 1904, and by the end of that year prices were well restored and the process of business expansion removed. It became evident that 1903 was merely an unfortunate incident in a period of business prosperity which had begun in 1898, and which had not yet reached its culminating point.

The events of the past year has confirmed this interpretation of the general trend of business. The country is apparently more prosperous than ever; and railroad earnings are showing truly extraordinary increases over the large totals of previous years. But although business is as good as it was in 1902, if not better, the symptoms and effects of this prosperity are very different. The process of industrial and railway consolidation has not been carried any further, and the new securities which are issued are necessitated not by financial schemes but by the requirements of an expanding business. From 1898 to 1902 the amount of railroad construction was comparatively small; whereas the year 1906 will compare in this respect favorably with the largest previous years in the history of the country. Throughout the West vast extensions are projected, and are evidently justified by the increasing business of that portion of the country. What is still more significant, however, is the effect which the prosperity is having upon people of moderate means. In 1902 they enjoyed the fruits without sharing much in the process of growth. But now they have begun to speculate themselves; and of course, their field of speculation is not the difficult land of Wall Street, but that great country in which all good Americans are interested, viz., real estate.

Real estate is necessarily the great popular material of speculation. The security; grain and cotton markets are governed by national conditions, and the man of moderate means will not touch them except in periods of excitement. But the conditions governing real estate values are local. Every small business and professional man is more or less familiar with them in his own vicinity, and under the influence of speculative enthusiasm he will risk his capital in real estate purchases, as he would not in the purchase on credit of any other form of property. In almost all the large and small cities of the country a lively speculation in real estate values is taking place, and many small capitalists are making handsome profits. It is this speculation, which chiefly accounts for the high money rates of this spring, because a speculation of this kind demands even a larger use of credit than speculation in the stock market. The symptoms and characteristics of this speculation can be observed as plainly in New York as elsewhere. In 1901 and 1902 the New York real estate market was controlled by rich men, who bought high priced property in the business and residential sections of Manhattan both for use and for profit. But while there is at the present time a good demand for this class of property, also, the most conspicuous characteristic of the existing market is the demand for cheap suburban real estate in the outlying boroughs. It is cheap real estate which passes into the hands of the small houseowner, which is now being exploited; and so it is all over the country.

The significance of this lively and wide spread of popular interest in real estate is sufficiently obvious. All periods of business prosperity pass through a certain cycle of which the culminating phase is real estate speculation; and it is apparent that the period of business prosperity which began in 1898 has now reached this final phase of its career. We are not drawing this inference with any alarmist intention. The phase of real estate speculation will take some time to run its course, and there are no signs that the speculation will collapse at any early date. General business is in a remarkably sound as well as a remarkably prosperous condition, and it will be carried on for a long time to come, merely by the force of its present momentum. But still it is well to keep in mind that we are reaching the end of a cycle, and that the other swing of the pendulum when it comes will last longer than the reaction of 1903. How long it will last and how severe it will be, must, of course, depend upon the extent to which the current real estate speculation is carried to an excess. If the possible excess can be moderated all over the country, as it will be in New York, by the conservative action of money lending institutions, its consequences need not be disastrous, whereas, if values are advanced to an unwarrantable extent as they were in 1889 and 1890 in certain parts of the West, the fools must, of course, reap the full consequences of their own folly. There is, however, this to be said for the current speculation in real estate: The country is much better able to afford it than it was fifteen or more years ago. The vast increases of population and wealth, which have taken place since 1900 justify large increases in urban real estate values, and steadier and better markets also justify a higher level of values for agricultural land. No doubt the speculation will become excessive before it is over, because the small inexperienced speculator generally loses his head more completely than the professional; but for the present the situation should be watched with equanimity as well as with vigilance.

In Re Jerome Avenue.

To the Editor of the Record and Guide:

Referring to an article in your last week's issue dealing with the Jerome av section, the Record and Guide, in its conveyances, was the only publication that gave an adequate idea, as well as an adequate description, of the extensive purchases from the Dickinson estate by the Meyer-Gatling Investing Co. of vacant property on Jerome av. These purchases amounted to between $500,000 and $600,000, subject to mortgages of about $400,000. These and other large purchases along the line of Jerome av are in anticipation of the proposed subway along that way, and of the improvement that will result from the opening in a few days of the trolleys across Washington Bridge from the present subway station at 181st st, thence along Aqueduct av, and connecting with the Burnside av, Fordham road and Boscobel and Sedgwick av cars.

AN OLD READER.

To Amend the Lien Law.

To the Editor of Record and Guide:

We have secured the introduction, at the present session of the Legislature, of a bill to amend the Mechanics' Lien Law, relative to the cancellation of a bond given to discharge a lien. Believing that it is a matter which affects the interests of all contractors, material men and builders who have recourse to this branch of the law, we take the liberty of addressing you to explain briefly the purpose of this amendment.

As the law now is, wherever a lien has been discharged by the filing of a bond, and no action has been commenced to foreclose the lien, within the statutory period, there is no way of getting rid of the liability on such a bond, though the statutory period of limitation for a foreclosure suit has elapsed, and upon an application to cancel such a bond it has been intimated by the courts that the liability on the bond cannot be extinguished unless by suit, short of the twenty-year period. For example, if a sub-contractor has filed a lien and a bond has been executed by the owner to discharge it as permitted by statute, and the lienor then fails to commence suit within a year in the ordinary case, or ninety days in the case of a lien for a municipal improvement, the bond which has been substituted for the property or funds will not be cancelled, nor can it be formally cancelled, failing the determination of an action to determine the validity of the lien. There is an obvious defect in the law in this respect, which has frequently been called to our attention, as well as to that of other lawyers who have had experience in dealing with the subject of mechanics' liens.

The bond should manifestly be released in the same manner as the lien itself, where no suit has been brought, but the statutory limitation is now held not to apply to an action on the bond. Such a bond is conditioned for "the payment of any judgment that may be recovered in an action to enforce the lien," and, although it would therefore seem that the bond is no longer enforceable by its terms after the right to foreclose the lien shall have abated, the bond remains, and a hardship is frequently worked because the owner refuses to pay the contractor in full, and holds back an amount equal to the amount of the lien, i. e., he will not pay in full until the bond is cancelled and discharged. In this manner, a subcontractor refusing to consent to the cancellation of a bond, can successfully tie up the money due to the contractor, to his disadvantage, until the determination of a suit which he may bring upon the bond presumably at any time within twenty years.

It is proposed to amend Section 3417 of the Code of Civil Procedure and to add a provision to the Lien Law (Laws of 1897, Chap. 418) providing for the discharge of such a bond.

THOMPSON & WARREN.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT OF SECTION 3417 OF THE CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE.

Sec. 3417. A mechanic's lien on real property, a lien against the amount due or to become due a contractor from a municipal corporation for the construction of a public improvement; or a bond or undertaking filed to discharge a mechanic's lien on real property or for a public improvement, may be vacated and cancelled by an order of a court of record. Before such order shall be granted a notice shall be served upon the lienor, either personally or by leaving it at his last known place of residence with a person of suitable age with directions to deliver it to the lienor. Such notice shall require the lienor to commence an action to enforce the lien, or to commence an action on the bond, within a time specified in the notice, not less than thirty days from the time of service, or show cause at a special term of a court of record or at a county court in a county in which the property is situated, at a time and place specified therein, why the notice of lien filed should not be vacated and cancelled of record; or the bond or undertaking discharged and cancelled. Proof of such service and that the lienor has not commenced the action on such bond or undertaking or to foreclose such lien, as directed in the notice, shall be made by affidavit at the time of applying for such order.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO LAWS 1897, CHAPTER 418.

Section 20, A. A bond or undertaking filed pursuant to the provisions of Subdivision 4 of Section 18, or Subdivision 5 of Section 20, herein, shall be vacated and cancelled as follows:

I. By filing a certificate of the lienor, duly acknowledged or proved, in the office in which the notice of lien is filed, stating that the claim for which the lien was filed is satisfied.

II. By failure to begin an action as for the foreclosure of such lien and on said bond or undertaking within the time prescribed for the beginning of an action to foreclose the lien to discharge which the said bond was filed.

III. By order of the court vacating or cancelling such bond, for neglect of the lienor to begin an action on said lien or bond granted pursuant to the Code of Civil Procedure.

IV. By satisfaction of a judgment rendered in an action to enforce the lien, or an action on the bond.

Alas, San Francisco!

First wrecked by earthquakes and then enveloped in devouring flames, the great queen city of the Pacific coast is this day still burning. Her dead are unnumbered, and the survivors, homeless, are fleeing for refuge. Most of the city has been destroyed, and the remainder can scarcely be saved. It is the most terrible holocaust in American history. This is the great news of the day: the telegraphs, the daily press and the bulletin boards are filled with it. For years to come people will speak of San Francisco with sorrow. As for losses, so far as dollars may be able to count them, they will have to be reckoned, not by the millions, but by the hundreds of millions. Otherwise families if not altogether exterminated are irretrievably ruined in great number. They are not only temporarily homeless but also permanently deprived of their business and employment. The insurance risks of American and foreign companies in San Francisco amount to $298,000,000. Opinions differ among insurance men as to whether the companies will have to pay losses on buildings which were burned after being partly demolished by the earthquake. Eventually, of course, the city will be rebuilt, and probably in after years will see greater prosperity than ever, but for a long period to come it will be a city of sorrow and suffering.

Builders are waiting with the keenest interest for more precise accounts of the damage wrought to important buildings, especially to buildings which may have been, with some measure of accuracy, classified as fireproof. It is important to know to what degree the modern steel frame construction withstood the fearful "shake down" which disintegrated solidly constructed stone and brick edifices. There are scarcely any details as yet from which these questions can be answered, even in part, and it may be difficult at any future time to distinguish between the havoc wrought by the flames and the damage done by the terrific shaking. Some of the big construction companies here are already dispatching engineers to the stricken city to investigate and learn such lessons as are there recorded.

San Francisco was not a city of such substantial construction as Manhattan. In the year 1900 there were but 5,000 buildings of stone and brick. Years ago the fear of earthquakes caused the people of San Francisco to build more carefully and solidly and to anchor their buildings more thoroughly than they have in later years. A great deal of reliance was placed in redwood, which, it was said, was almost fireproof; but while redwood, like anthracite, is slow burning, it burns like coal when started. The Palace Hotel was built of redwood.

So far as can be learned from the accounts, all the skyscrapers are destroyed, as well as all other business structures in the devastated district. One building, the "Chronicle" office, was uninjured by the shock; but, like everything else, was subsequently burned. Mr. Theodore Starrett, president of the Thompson-Starrett Co., of this city, was the engineer who designed this building. Mr. Starrett, arriving from Chicago this morning, said that his company would at once send an engineer to San Francisco to make a technical investigation. One of the lessons of the disaster, Mr. Starrett was induced to say, is that hereafter engineers should be more prominent in designing this class of buildings.

Mr. W. J. Fryer, chairman of the New York City Board of Examiners, said that sufficient details were not at hand on which he could make any comments that would interest builders. In former years San Francisco buildings, as he personally knew, were very substantial, in order to resist shocks, structures being braced and anchored pretty well; but in recent years fancied immunity from earthquakes, not to mention governmental slackness, had tempted people to build loosely. No one can say as yet if the steel skeleton buildings as a class withstood the shocks any better than wall-bearing structures. There would be surprise if it should prove that many collapsed before the fire. That some lost portions of their curtain walls would not impeach their general stability. When San Francisco is rebuilt no doubt all the walls in steel skeleton buildings will be thoroughly anchored.

It is not surprising that the new year has witnessed such great activity in the erection of business buildings, nor is there any reason to suppose that the movement is purely a speculative one and that at any time the bottom may drop out and builders and investors find themselves with property for which there is no great demand. In fact, the most careful observers are of the opinion that the building of offices and other large structures not intended for living purposes is really proceeding along conservative lines, and with little reason to apprehend that the market has been overbuilt.

Upper East Bronx.

A PROMINENT BROKER OF THAT SECTION DESCRIBES ITS ADVANTAGES, NEEDS AND PROSPECTS.

FOR a prosperous season in Bronx realty the outlook is brighter now than it has ever been previous to this year. That section of the Borough of the Bronx between Third av and Boston road, and from Crotona Park north to Pelham av, is a particularly favored spot. There are improvements in almost every block in this section, and the buildings are of a high class. Flats of five to seven rooms rent easily, but the voice of the home seeker is for a smaller house.

If, in the locality mentioned, builders would pay more attention to the construction of one, two and three-family houses the supply, even with the most energetic work, would not equal the demand. The prices range from eight to ten thousand dollars for 2-family and eleven to fourteen thousand dollars for 3-family houses for the better grade, and from $6,500 up for the houses without all the latest improvements.

WEARY OF FLATS.

Not a day passes but twenty or more persons call and inquire about a house. They are weary of flats. They come to the Borough of the Bronx for its healthful conditions. The air is fresh and clean; there is no smoke nuisance; no streets walled in by solid fronts of buildings six and eight stories high, and the landlords of downtown flats who seem to be in favor of race suicide are rapidly opening the eyes of the man with a family to the advantages of the Bronx as a place of residence. We hear of an overproduction of flats. This is largely in error, for there are, and always will be, a multitude of people who prefer a flat to a house with the cares attendant upon its occupancy. We have no trouble in-renting flats. But the growing need, the demand we cannot satisfy, is for small houses. Two-family houses make a good investment for the home seeker. They can be built and sold on terms that would enable a poor man to buy and pay for his home with the rent he receives for one portion of it. Some builders have recognized this, but not enough.

There seems to be no modification of rents in flats or apartment houses, which is proof that the influx of flat dwellers has not decreased. It is a question, however, what result upon these rents the building of a large number of 2-family houses would be. Naturally, persons wishing to move into the Bronx, hoping to find there a small and cozy home to their taste, and meeting disappointment because the supply is so meagre, turn to the flats. These are, of course, new and up-to-date, giving every convenience the flat-dweller could desire. It is the home seeker the builders should now consider.

Houses of this character, suitable for one or two families, can be rented or sold any day in the week. We have sold several of these houses recently, for instance, on Fairmount pl, a lovely location half way between 3d av and Boston road, on Clinton av, which is complete with improvements, including brick asphalt pavement; Prospect av, which is destined to be one of the finest streets of the Borough, and in the streets named by numbers the sales and rentals have been in excess of any previous year at this time. Yet hundreds leave disappointed and return to Manhattan, simply because we have not enough of the right kind of houses to go round.

AN ATTRACTIVE REGION.

This particular section mentioned has more to offer in the way of advantages as a place of residence than any other part of New York City. On the west we have at 3d av the elevated road, and on the east, at West Farms (or Boston road), we have the station of the subway. The section is well supplied with surface cars, connecting at all important points. The lines that start from 3d av and on Tremont av are three in number, and reach Morris Park, Williamsbridge and Westchester. They transfer to the Boston av line and the Southern Boulevard at West Farms, and to the 3d av Morris Heights, Fordham and High Bridge lines at 3d av. On the 1st of May the new lines on Tremont av, 180th st, Kingsbridge road and other good business streets will run cars.

In the matter of present and prospective beauty this section is unsurpassed. No portion of any other city in the country has a finer system of parks and parkways. Crotona Park, with its athletic fields, its skating ponds in winter, its wild woodland in summer, begins a system that is continued by the Parkway that runs along with the Southern Boulevard, making a grand avenue 300 ft. wide, with drives, little green islands with trees and flowers, wide walks to the entrance of Bronx Park, one of the most pleasing successes of the world. Bronx Park, with its Zoological section, and the Botanical Gardens, and the wild and picturesque scenery still left for the pick-nicker, adds to the beauty and the value of the place. From this a broad parkway leads to Pelham Park, and another to Van Courtlandt. The advantages of pure air and ample house room, with sufficient railroad accommodations, will double the population of the Bronx. We have them all except the family homes. Let us have more of these. They will not remain empty long.

Some flat owners adhere to the practice of giving a month's rent free, others have found it advisable to discontinue. This seems to be a matter of individual experience and taste. The territory west of 3d av no longer needs to be classed among the home sections. With lots at $25,000 or more, it has become an exclusively business section, particularly Tremont av; in fact, there are no vacant lots on the avenue in that quarter. The schools of this upper Bronx section are unparalleled anywhere; they are built with the most careful consideration of sanitary conditions; the sites chosen are healthful.

All of these things, being now a matter of fact known to home seekers, increase the desire to live here, and the outlook, as stated in the beginning of the article, is better than it ever was before.

We have had a few large apartment and flat houses built during the last year and there was no difficulty experienced in either renting or selling them. At the present time there are three 4-sty flats being built in Fairmount pl which will have five rooms and bath on each floor, and which when complete will rent from $23 to $26 per floor. These are the grade of flats people are waiting for, as they come within the means of the mechanic and man of salary. The whole secret of the many vacancies in some parts of the Bronx is that houses were built on too dear a scale and rents were screwed up accordingly. Those builders who built with an eye to the middle class man have had no cause of complaint. They sold with a fair profit and the new owners have no cause to complain of vacancies. We have a lot of vacant property which can be bought at prices that are reasonable and where a builder will make a good profit, for although the price of building material is put up at top notches, he can buy his land so much less, and so equalize his costs. What we need is the builder of flats at reasonable rentals for the lower portion of the section I describe in the beginning of this article, and for two and three-family houses in the northerly part of it. It is a matter of surprise that Tremont av, from Third to West Farms or Boston road, has so few large buildings. Prices have advanced steadily and will continue so, and the larger construction companies as well as the individual builder will realize when too late that they have been caught napping.

Banquet of the Real Estate Classes.

One of the pleasant offices of the class in real estate of the West Side Y. M. C. A. has been for two winters now past to offer a platform for the production of a number of important lectures on subjects related to property interests and to bring forward as many gentlemen who were known in their circles to be qualified to discuss and illuminate these matters. It has been pleasure and profit to every one who has heard and read the expositions, and no doubt has had a part in causing the new popularity of real estate affairs with the public. New York City at large was never so absorbed in real estate matters as it is at the present time. Under such circumstances the second annual banquet of the Real Estate Classes of the Association at Reisenwebers on Tuesday night had an importance not often ascribed to such occasions. Among the speakers were Mr. Francis E. Ward, a prince of toastmasters; Henry F. Miller, Esq., who delivered the notable winter course of law lectures; Mr. E. A. Tredwell and Robert E. Simon, two of the popular lecturers of the real estate course; William M. Kingsley, vice-president of the United States Trust Co., who as a leading officer of the association has aided Mr. Britigan, the prime mover of the whole business. Messrs. Ronald C. Lee, Henry H. #### A BANKER'S EXPERIENCES AS A REAL ESTATE OWNER.

Mr. Kingsley expressed the pleasure of the committee of arrangements that the success of the Real Estate Class had been so complete, and thanked the instructors and members of the class for their co-operation in accomplishing such satisfactory results. He said: "A year ago, in addressing the first annual banquet of this class, I called attention to some defects in the system of conducting real estate business, and understand that through your efforts these defects were remedied at once, and a marked improvement commenced. My experience during the past year has convinced me, however, that one who gets connected with real estate transactions, not as broker, or agent, or operator, but just as a plain citizen, is liable to find himself up against a lot of trouble. A few years ago I bought a house well up on the West Side in order that my numerous family might have some grass whereon to play, but the grass has all disappeared and has been succeeded by apartment houses, on every side except the east, where a hole was dug for one, but the builder failed, and the hole still remains. When the excavation was made for the house in the rear, they built their retaining wall on my land, but it was explained that this was really a good thing for me, as otherwise my backyard would have slid off into their back yard and I should have been obliged to go out and collect it. The rear fence had to come down, and later was replaced, but I received a bill for it and had to pay. The east fence is still down, and it has not yet been decided who will replace it—at my expense.

"In view of the loss of the grass in the neighborhood, last year I bought another plot further north, on a bluff fronting on Lafayette Boulevard, and started to build a new house. The owner of a house nearby warned me, as a result of his experience, to get the foundation fixed deep or the house would strike the avenue on the fly and go into the river on the first bounce, so we dug down about 30 ft. before we hit rock, and then a workman fell down the trench and hit the same rock. It has not yet been determined who pays for his broken ribs. We expected to move in last fall. We are now hopeful of getting in next winter. It has cost twice the estimated expense, but the workmen have to be paid extra wages, because we often nailed a sign on the house, 'One mile to the nearest saloon.' Now that I have to sell our present house to pay for the new one, I find that bids are lacking because the empty plot next door may be filled up with a stable or a brewery. These remarks are not made with the spirit of criticism, but merely to explain that I have had so much experience and excitement in real estate matters that I have not felt it necessary to join this class, which otherwise I might have done."

Mr. E. A. Tredwell spoke on "Hold-ups in Real Estate." He referred to the monopolies in land established in New York, and said: "Rockefeller, without realizing it, in putting hundreds of acres together at Pocantico is acting as an Anarchist. He is driving men to Socialism or municipal ownership, which is only Socialism in disguise. The Municipal Ownership League must become a prominent feature in New York. Which is the greater Anarchist, the man who absorbs the whole water front or the man who declares the rights of 4,000,000 people cannot be held up? At Sands Point there are ten miles of water front and only two plots for sale. You can sell a man land with a water view, but it is tantalizing to pay $1,000 an acre for land and have no road to the water."

Francis E. Ward was the toastmaster. Robert E. Simon replied to the toast, "The Real Estate Broker and Operator." Henry F. Miller, responding to the toast, "The Law's Burden in Real Estate," followed. Mr. Miller said that the law bore unevenly on real estate, particularly in respect to taxation. "Disappointment in Real Estate" was the toast to which R. C. Lee responded.

Labor Situation.

For the present employers engaged in erecting structural steel and iron have help sufficient for their contracts, but as an extraordinary number of new works are scheduled, there is some apprehension of not having men enough in May and June, when these must be manned. In general building lines, 1906 is naturally destined to be the banner year in New York City, all authorities agree, should there be no disturbances of magnitude. Brick-handlers, both on the Hudson River yards and on the city wharves, are making demands, with some threats, upon the manufacturing interests, and for a crisis are counting on the bricklaying unions here to support them by refusing to lay Hudson River brick.

But such action on the part of the bricklayers would be quite without precedent, and builders have not considered it as even a possibility. The class of men who talk of striking for higher wages on the brick yards are locally termed "locusts," and are for the most part negroes temporarily from the Southland who do the most laborious part of the work, and have never hitherto pretended to be union men. A mere brickyard strike by almost penniless laborers is not likely to be of long duration, or of itself to affect building in New York.

Union No. 37 of bricklayers fell into line with the other unions on the fireproofing question last Friday night, and has signed the same agreement with the Mason Builders' Association. Except for bickerings between dual unions, there is no sign on the shore of a storm on the industrial sea, and all the ships that pass carry signals of peace.

Building Operations.

Elevator Apartment for Riverside Drive.

RIVERSIDE DRIVE.—An 8-sty high-class elevator apartment house, 75x85.11, will be built on the south side of 109th st, 100 ft. east of Riverside Drive, by the West Side Construction Co., 126 West 91st st, to cost about $200,000. LIBERTY ST.—Ernest Flagg, 35 Wall st, has plans ready for the 14-sty annex to the Singer Building, 52.10x100.2 ft., to be erected at Nos. 91-93 Liberty st, at a cost of $300,000. Two old buildings will be demolished. No contract has yet been awarded. These annex plans are in addition to the main 14 and 40-sty plans, to cost $1,500,000, filed in February last. The price paid for both plots, it is said, was more than $1,000,000, the purchase taking place on Wednesday. The firm will erect on the site a building for their own use, with offices above, 11-stys in height. No contracts have been awarded.

Plans for Another Seamen's Home.

WEST ST.—American Seamen's Society, of 76 Wall st, which recently sold its Cherry st property to the city for the anchorage of the new Williamsburg Bridge, will now erect at West and Jane sts a 5-sty new fireproof home, 35x165 ft., for which Messrs. Boring & Tilton, of No. 32 Broadway, are now preparing plans. No figures have been taken or contracts let. At the northeast corner of Coenties slip and South st, fronting Jeannette Park, the Seamen's Church Institute of the Port of New York, another organization, will build, at a cost of $550,000, an institution building which, it is said, will be the largest sailors' home in the world. It will be of fireproof construction, eight or ten stories in height. Lawyer Edmund L. Baylies, of No. 54 Wall st, states that $100,000 has already been subscribed. No plans, architect or contracts have been awarded. Other well-known gentlemen interested are Captain A. T. Mahon, J. A. Johnson, Henry L. Morris and Wilhelmus Mynderse. (See issue Feb. 24, 1906.)

Another Fifth Avenue Store Building.

Boehm & Coon, 31 Nassau st, will build at the southwest corner of 5th av and 35th st a store and office building, 11 stories, basement and sub-basement, fronting 85.9 ft. in 5th av and 150 ft. in 35th st. Clinton & Russell, of No. 32 Nassau st, are preparing the plans. A large part of the structure will be occupied by the Acker, Merrill & Condit Co., grocers, who have leased the whole building for a term of 21 years at a total rental, as reported, of $3,175,000. The property is now covered by the New York Club building, and James P. Silo holds a lease to the building south of the club, which expires May 1, 1908. The new home in West 40th st, now nearing completion, to which the New York Club will move on May 1, will leave the old premises ready for wreckers. Operations will be commenced in two sections, the first covering the corner site and the second upon Mr. Silo's expiring lease. No contract has yet been awarded for the work.

April Meeting of the Gargoyles.

On Tuesday evening, April 17, the Gargoyles held a well-attended and thoroughly enjoyable meeting at the Hofbrau Haus, 30th st and Broadway. This club, composed of architects and draughtsmen, is gaining rapidly in the number of its members, and promises to be a very flourishing and powerful organization. The address of the evening was delivered by Mr. R. P. Miller, Chief Engineer of the Building Department. Mr. Miller took for his theme the question of the revision of the Building Code. He strongly favors a much simpler building law, with the responsibility placed upon licensed superintendents, instead of upon inspectors, as at present, who have entirely too many jobs to watch to make thorough inspection possible. Three cheers were given Mr. Miller. After this followed an informal discussion of the question of trade catalogues, it being agreed that catalogue matter, standardized and cross-indexed, as in "Sweet's Indexed Catalogue of Building Construction," is much to be preferred to numberless independent catalogues.

The New Manhattan Atlas.

E. Belcher Hyde, the atlas publisher, of this city, is now engaged in the publication of a new and valuable atlas of Manhattan Borough, completing the same in four volumes, one of which is now ready for delivery and another volume soon to follow.

The publisher expects to have out sufficient volumes to cover that portion of the city from 72d st to Spuyten Duyvil by the latter part of next month, the remaining volumes appearing as promptly as a proper regard for good and accurate work will permit.

The new and valuable features which this atlas shows, and which are not shown in other atlases, commend it to all active real estate operators. By them it is conceded the best atlas published.

These new and valuable features are as follows:

Depth of the buildings.

Number of stories of the extensions of buildings, as well as the building proper.

Stores are distinguished from residences and other buildings.

Liquor stores shown.

Fireproof buildings, etc.

See advertising pages.

BUILDING NOTES

So far this year the lime trade has been fifty per cent. better than for the corresponding time last year.

Officers and governors of the Building Trades Employers' Association newly elected: President, Isaac A. Hopper, first vice-president, Benjamin D. Traitell; second vice-president, Ross F. Tucker; chairman of the board of governors, Lewis Harding; treasurer, Paul Starrett, and secretary, William J. Holmes.

The work of placing in position the steel superstructure for the new bridge over Flushing Creek, at the foot of Broadway, Flushing, was commenced this week. For the past year operations have been confined to constructing the abutments and rest piers. It is now hoped to have the bridge ready for traffic by the first of August.

Brick manufacturing has been very fully resumed on the Hudson, and all the machines that can be manned are turning out the soft green cubes that will soon be transformed into "Hudson River Hards." An advance in quotations is noted this week, but in a few weeks the new brick will be coming in strong, and some moderation is then expected.

Fr. Oman, painter and decorator, of the Fuller Building, has recently finished the woodwork in a number of notable buildings, among which are the Trinity Building and the Hall of Records, the latter, it is said, containing the finest woodwork of any public building in New York. The finish of the Trinity Building presented exceptional difficulties, as all the interior woodwork there is fireproofed mahogany. Mr. Oman is now engaged on the Langham apartment house in Central Park West and a 12-story hotel in East 60th st.

The erecting department of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co. for Manhattan Borough, which until recently was on the 19th floor of the Trinity Building, has been moved to the Fuller Building, corner of 23d st and Broadway. This change was made necessary because the department was in want of more space than it was possible to obtain at 111 Broadway, and also because the uptown location is more suitable and convenient for the construction work, most of the power plants being located within easy reaching distance.

Built for its owner's sole occupancy, the new counting-house of the Title Guarantee & Trust Co. is an exceptional construction—in a period when to rear a monumental edifice in the financial district of New York for the owner's exclusive use is a rare proceeding. And this building is regarded as a work very typical of that wonderful advance in building methods and materials, in design and equipment, that has been made even within so brief a space of time as since the beginning of the new century. As such it is a study in new materials and inventions, in architectural refinements and in clever and honorable workmanship.

Owing to the rapid increase in their business, Geo. A. Varney & Co., builders, 156 5th av, will remove May 1 to larger quarters on the fourth floor of the Presbyterian Building. This is the third time within eighteen months that this firm have been compelled to seek larger office accommodations on account of the growth of their business. Each move has been to larger offices in the same building. Among some of the recent contracts obtained by this firm are: the 5-story store and loft building at 78-81 South st, the Schwarzschild & Sulzberger stable of reinforced concrete at 45th st and 2d av, the chapel for Mrs. Clarence Mackay at Roslyn, L. I. (McKim, Mead & White, architects), a 5-story residence at 81st st and West End av (Lyman A. Ford, architect), and extensive alteration to a hotel in Sea Cliff, L. I.

The large plant of the firm of Ravitch Bros., structural and ornamental iron workers, at Madison av, 136th st and the Harlem River, recently partly destroyed by fire, has again been put in working order. Thoroughly equipped with all modern electric and compressed air appliances and modern machinery, and owning a private dock, this firm have every facility for the careful and prompt handling of orders of any size. Quick delivery of all kinds of structural shapes and ornamental iron work of every description is assured by the complete stock always kept on hand, which enables most any kind of structure to be erected in a minimum time. Ravitch Bros. have in addition well appointed drafting and engineering departments, giving them unexcelled facilities for the designing, handling and erecting of work of the highest order.

Plans for Queens Court House.

Peter M. Coco, architect, of 114 East 23d st, Manhattan, has completed the plans for the reconstruction of the Queens County Court House at Long Island City. He is making the final drawings which will be submitted to Borough President Bermel, who will then have them passed upon by the Municipal Art Commission, after which an appropriation for rebuilding the edifice will be asked from the Board of Estimate. According to the estimate of Mr. Coco it will cost between $175,000 and $200,000 to carry out his idea.

REAL ESTATE NOTES

Henry R. Stern was the buyer of No. 749 Amsterdam av, an apartment house, with stores, on a plot 32x100.

The Dexter Realty Co., a new corporation to deal in Manhattan property, has opened at 42 Broadway, room 1409.

Ground has been broken for a new synagogue, to be erected by the Montefiore Hebrew Congregation of the Bronx, in Hewitt pl, near 165th st.

The collections from the mortgage tax for the first quarter of a year in New York City amounted to $211,790. Manhattan's share was $150,955. Half goes to the State.

Fred J. Richter (formerly with Whiter & Richter) and G. Waldo Smith, Jr., have formed a partnership for conducting a general real estate business, and have opened offices at 150 Nassau st (Suite 2009-10).

Payson McLane Merrill, formerly with the firm of Horace S. Ely & Co., real estate agents and brokers, has opened an office in the Law Building, 259 5th av, near 28th st, where he will conduct a general real estate business.

M. H. Beringer & Co., in conjunction with Joseph A. Riordan, sold to T. Shriver & Co. 106 lots in Harrison, N. J., the "Duke farm property," on Hamilton and Schuyler avs. T. Shriver & Co. will erect an iron foundry upon this property for their own occupancy.

Buyers are beginning to appreciate the value of Fulton st property, as evidenced by the recent sales of 172 and 170 Fulton st to the Century Realty Co., 110 Fulton st to the Dutch Realty Co., 73-79 Fulton st for Chas. A. Schieren, 66 and 68 Fulton st to an adjoining owner, as well as the small building 46 Fulton st.

The real estate firm of Frederick F. Stoll & Co., of No. 204 West 96th st, has established a suburban department in connection with the general business of the concern. It is their intention to make a specialty of Long Island property, having already purchased a large tract, the location of which has not been made public.

South Brooklyn, in the vicinity of the Bush Terminal Works, manifests a disposition to boom. The terminal company is spending millions for improvements that will provide permanent employment for thousands of men. As for instance the tenant factories they are constructing, and which are rented as soon as finished.

Mayor McClellan has promised to try to hurry the Blackwell's Island Bridge along. Plans and condemnation proceedings are both tardy, and the ironworkers are on strike. A committee of twenty-one residents of Queens and Manhattan met on Sunday afternoon at the headquarters of the East Side Taxpayers' Association, No. 160 East 60th st, and drew up an address describing the unsatisfactory state of the bridge works.

This is a very busy and interesting season in the auction marts in the Bronx and Brooklyn, as well as in Manhattan. Sales are well attended, and good property opens pocketbooks quickly. All kinds of stuff is therefore going on the block. An interesting lot sale of the week was by Geo. W. Bard, who disposed of 140 lots owned by A. P. Gardiner in the Sherwood Park section. The property is situated on Webster av, Crescent pl, Gardiner pl and Mile Square road. The sale was well attended, and the total amount realized was $56,685.

Several prominent Bronx brokers have recently in these columns called attention to the wonderful request for small houses to rent and buy in that borough. R. I. Brown's Sons remarked this week: "At present there is considerable selling and trading, principally in the eastern and northern sections of the Bronx. The cause of which we attribute to the cheaper class of property and to the proposed railroad facilities. As regards renting and rentals, there is a great demand for one and two family houses, as applicants are getting tired of flats, our supply of the same being very limited on account of the limited increase in these kinds of houses. Rentals are on the increase for all classes of property."

New York City is cursed by its bad manners. Corporations and individuals invade public and personal rights just as far as they dare go without being forcibly halted. In an increasing number of business circles the observance of the commonest code of ethics is becoming quite imperceptible. Piracy and petty imposition have been substituted for fair play to such a degree that business life in New York is in danger of becoming a rowdy combat; for without regard to law and justice tricky men trespass upon the forbearance of others in their daily walk and transactions until they arouse indignant resistance. The game is getting to be considered a substitute for "smartness," while those who submit to it are looked upon as "innocents." Sing Sing is a monument to ill-manners, and is full of rogues who considered themselves "clever" or exceptionally "wise." The smoke nuisance here in New York is a specimen outrage, long endured, and therefore steadily aggravated, until resistance in the form of police power and legal prosecutions has been compelled.

Sale of the Altman Sixth Avenue Store.

6TH AV.—One of the most important real estate transactions closed in this city was consummated late yesterday afternoon, when Benjamin Altman disposed of his entire holdings, the site of his present place of business, to Henry Morgenthau and J. B. Greenhut. The property has a frontage of 184 ft. on 6th av and about 481 ft. on 18th and 19th sts, containing over 88,000 sq. ft. of ground floor space, making it the second largest collected retail dry goods site in this city, the Siegel-Cooper property being about 2,000 sq. ft. larger, and the third largest in the United States, Marshall, Field & Co.'s, of Chicago, being slightly larger than the Siegel-Cooper site. The sale includes all of the buildings composed of the beautifully equipped dry goods building now occupied by B. Altman & Co., as well as the new granite fireproof stable on 18th st. With its large electric light plant, pneumatic system and other machinery, it is one of the best equipped stores in the city. Possession will be given to the purchasers on or about September 15, when Mr. Altman will open his new store at 34th st and 5th av. The purchasers should have no difficulty in finding some reputable dry goods merchant as tenant. Many have been looking to get into New York, but the difficulty of collecting a sufficiently large site under one roof, in a desirable location, is well nigh impossible. The property just sold has a full block front on 6th av, midway between 14th and 23d sts—the greatest shopping centre in the world. The eight large dry goods houses now located there spend annually two millions of dollars in newspaper advertising, and, combined, do a business of over fifty million dollars per annum. The station of the Sixth Av L is at the corner of 18th st, in front of the property; the proposed McAdoo tunnel, now in the course of construction, which will bring all the Jersey trolleys, the Erie and Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Ry. trains into the city, will have an entrance into the building, and the proposed subway in Seventh avenue will also have a station at the corner of 18th street. With the many bridges to Long Island, proposed and in the course of erection, and the numerous tunnels both under the East and Hudson Rivers feeding into the heart of the city, for an area covering fifty miles in diameter, this section is destined to become greater and more important as a retail dry goods centre with each succeeding year. Mr. Altman began business on this site thirty-five years ago, and his business grew and developed until to-day it is the finest and largest retail dry goods store in the city. The price at which the property was held is two million five hundred thousand dollars.

CONVEYANCES

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. A. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows;

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. A. G. means a deed containing Covehant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street or avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

MORTGAGES

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we given is taken from the instrument as filed.

The most desirable class of tenants are those who can afford to pay a good rent. They usually wont unless the store has all the modern improvements. If it hasn't Luxfer Prisms it is not up-to-date. Make your property more valuable by increasing the amount of real daylight into it. Let us explain matters to you either by mail or personally.

REPEATEDLY it has been said here that the stock market would be entirely influenced by money conditions for a long time to come, and this is true not only of money conditions in this country but also in Europe. Our money situation has, of course, become more complicated by the San Francisco disaster, which in turn has tended to complicate the money market abroad, and has perhaps imperilled the Russian loan, which bankers had so long waited for a favorable opportunity to issue. The Pennsylvania Railroad, it would seem, had also been waiting for a clear financial sky, to make an announcement of its needs. All these things tend not only to financial disquiet, but give the now powerful bear party a daily supply of ammunition. The stock market could be easily rallied if it suited the potent interests who are always in control, but clearly it does not suit them. Their commissions and charges for accommodations grow with disquietude. They have money to sell. All favorable happenings are allowed to fall flat. The increase in Amalgamated Copper dividend, the declaration of a dividend on the preferred stock of Missouri, Kansas & Texas, and the remarkable statement of earnings by the United States Steel Corporation just made, have been alike celebrated by a decline in the shares affected. Cotton goes down on a record consumption, and wheat declines regularly, although by comparison the cheapest of all the food products. Is it to be wondered at that professional speculators are confused and losing money? They may truly say, "The times are out of joint." Providence as well as the exigencies of politics are against them. The market goes down when it ought to go up, and it behooves real estate operators to take heed of such financial phenomena, for beneath the surface must lie a cause.

THE LONDON STATIST, in its last issue received, is unqualifiedly bullish on all things American. It sees a clear track ahead with no danger signals, except the steam that is being put on money in this country by the widespread prosperity and universal optimism which leads everybody on one hand to extend himself and go in debt, if necessary, to do it, and on the other hand renders it easy to find people equally optimistic who will extend the required credit. The ability to go in debt, which implies a willingness to do so, and the ability to find the people who will trust, is enough in itself in a country like ours to make a boom, whereas the reverse is enough to cause a shrinkage and depression, which is another way of saying we shrink from going into debt, and at the same time and for the same reasons others shrink from giving us credit. The talk of sales of stocks and securities on the part of insurance companies in order to liquidate the enormous losses caused by the San Francisco disaster has undoubtedly had a depressing influence on the market. The realization may not make the matter any worse than the anticipation, as it may be found to be all discounted. It is said that a combination of insurance companies has been formed to hold all their stocks, and that the banks will furnish the money necessary to carry the stocks. If this be the case, one disquieting element of the situation will have disappeared. The anthracite coal difficulty is still in statu quo. It does not seem to have occurred to any of the financial writers that the cessation of anthracite coal mining, if of short duration, might have an unlooked-for effect on the money market. Employees have put aside money—half a million having on an average $160 each. This money is the same as though withdrawn from circulation, and would of necessity have to be restored to circulation by a suspension of work, which would call for its use. In like manner the ten million tons of anthracite coal now stored and carried either by borrowed money or the surplus funds of the coal companies, would be sold and distributed, enabling the loans to be paid off on replacing the money in the treasury of the coal companies to be loaned in the market. A money market based on such artificial causes could, however, scarcely be considered a healthy one.

DIFFICULTIES in rebuilding San Francisco will not arise so much from the scarcity of materials as from the scarcity of labor. It is true that all the important building materials, excepting only wood, are expensive in California, and that the inadequacy of the supply of brick and good building stones will force San Franciscans frequently to adopt probably some form of concrete construction. Still, in the matter of good materials an imperative demand will open up some kind of an adequate supply. When it comes, however, to obtaining a sufficient number of competent mechanics, the obstacles will be much harder to overcome. There have always been plenty of carpenters in California, because of the almost universal use of wooden buildings; but masons, and, indeed, all the mechanics connected with masonry and fireproof construction are scarce, and very highly paid. This was one of the reasons why San Francisco continued to be built so largely of wood. The cost of masonry construction was so great that the value of property had to be very high in order to make masonry buildings pay. It remains to be seen whether in the present emergency any adequate means can be taken to diminish the labor cost of the several different kinds of fireproof building. A great deal will, of course, depend on the attitude of the unions. The local organizations of mechanics have in the past had it very much their own way, and they have used their advantage to the very limit. No one can blame them for so doing; but they probably overreached themselves by pushing their demands on their employers too far. They diminished the demand for their services by discouraging people who would like to have built masonry instead of wooden structures. In the present emergency, they will not be expected to take any smaller wages than they have been getting in the past, and the necessity is so great that the business of San Francisco can afford to pay these high prices. But in case they attempt to take advantage of the local calamity and to extort still higher rates of wages, they will be making a grave mistake. The need for new buildings is so imperative, and it is so essential that these new buildings be substantially and economically built that if the labor cost becomes exorbitant it will pay the local employers to scour the country for the supply of mechanics which they need. The local unions will, it is to be hoped, co-operate with their employers in the task of rebuilding the city in a substantial manner, and at a cost which will not be too great. On condition that wages are not lowered, and that none but union labor is employed, they should encourage the immigration of competent mechanics, and issue union cards to such men without making too many difficulties. They would in this way not only be assisting their neighbors to restore the shattered city, but they would be providing for themselves a better chance of subsequent steady employment.

THE neighborhood of Thirty-fourth Street and Fifth Avenue has continued to be throughout the current season the most interesting part of the central area of Manhattan, from the real estate point of view. But the activity has not been speculative. Almost every transaction recently announced has concerned parcels which had been held for speculative purposes, and which have now finally passed into the hands of the business firms who will occupy them permanently. Rogers, Peet & Co. have taken over the old Broadway Tabernacle plot, and have obtained one of the choicest corners in the city as the site for a clothing store. Acker, Merrill & Condit have leased the former site of the New York Club, and have secured in this a new store in an extremely advantageous location for their business. The Bankers' Investing Company has disposed of part of its property on Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Streets to Oppenheim, Collins & Co., which means the establishing of a handsome ladies' furnishing shop on the street. As notes of subordinate interest, it should be added that "Huyler's" has rented a shop on Thirty-fourth Street, and that John Claflin has been enlarging his site to the west on Thirty-fifth Street. All these transactions must have been profitable to the speculators who disposed of their property, and they indicate that the neighborhood will be devoted to a much larger variety of retail business than any other similar neighborhood in the city. The net result is that the block bounded by Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Streets, Fifth Avenue and Greeley Square has passed into the hands of the business firms, who will occupy it permanently; and the same statement will soon be true of the south side of the street from Fifth Avenue west. The question is: How much further east and west will it be profitable for the best class of retail firms to buy or lease locations? It may be taken for granted, of course, that the south side of Thirty-fourth Street between Fifth and Madison Avenues, will be occupied in a similar manner; and it is very probable that the movement will extend as far as Park Avenue on the east, and as far as Seventh Avenue on the west. The movement in a westerly direction will take place more rapidly than the movement in the easterly direction, because the Pennsylvania Terminal will make Thirty-fourth Street an important thoroughfare all the way to Eighth Avenue. The opening up of the streets to the east for business purposes will, however, be retarded by the fact that Madison and Park Avenues have remained in that vicinity residential thoroughfares, and they are likely to remain in this condition for a long time, because at present they are more valuable for residential than they are for business purposes. Nevertheless, business will slowly push eastward on Thirty-fourth Street. In the beginning the stores will appeal to a few rich customers, as they did on Fifth Avenue; but gradually they will become both larger and more popular.

ACCORDING to all appearances there is now a fair chance that the mortgage tax will be repealed during the current session of the Legislature. The Governor's veto message cleared the atmosphere wonderfully. It placed his objections to the mortgage recording tax upon specific grounds which can readily be met by certain changes in the details of the bill; and the Legislature can easily send him a measure which should prove to be worthy of his signature. Friends of the repeal should not allow the Legislature to adjourn until the amended bill is passed, not only because the tax, as long as it remains, is an unjust burden upon real estate and building transactions, but because it may be more difficult to secure a repeal at a subsequent session of the Legislature. So far the income derived from the tax has been small, but it will become larger during each succeeding year that it remains upon the statute books; and its repeal will cause a correspondingly severe wrench of the state fiscal system. On the other hand, if repeal can be secured at the present session, the matter of mortgage taxation can be considered to be permanently settled. It is improbable that in that event any further attempt will be made during the present generation to place an annual tax upon mortgages; and the eventual result will undoubtedly be the increased popularity of mortgages as an investment and the payment of a permanently lower rate of interest on loans secured by real estate.

THE COURT of Appeals has decided that the Legislature has full power to deprive the Board of Aldermen of any jurisdiction over the granting of franchises; and the members of the Board will be very foolish in case they carry their legal protest any further. Public opinion acquiesces cordially in the existing law. No apprehension is felt that the Board of Estimate is not fully competent to bargain in an honest and efficient manner for the sale of local franchises, because the Board of Estimate is composed of men who rank higher both in ability and character than the Board of Aldermen, and because its members represent the interests not of a collection of small districts, but either the whole city or at least of a whole borough. The tendency of modern municipal charter legislation is to concentrate authority in the hands of commissioners elected by all the voters and to get away from a district system of representation. For our own part, we should like to see the Board of Aldermen abolished entirely. It costs the city far more than any possible valuation that can be placed upon its services. But if it cannot be abolished, a certain portion of its members should be elected upon general city and borough tickets; and remainder should represent very large instead of small districts. In that way it might be possible to fill the Board with men in whom public opinion has some confidence.

IT IS very much to be hoped that Mr. Edward M. Grout will be appointed to the vacancy in the Rapid Transit Commission, caused by the resignation of Mr. John Claflin. The Mayor is known to favor this appointment; and if there is a man in the city who, because of his past services to the cause of improved transit and his thorough mastery of the whole subject, is entitled to a membership on the Commission, that man is Mr. Grout. The equipment and point of view which he would bring to the task is just what the city needs in a Rapid Transit Commissioner. There can be no doubt that many members of the existing Commission represent somewhat superannuated ideas. They have performed excellent service in the past, for which the public should be and is sincerely grateful, but they have failed to keep in touch with the progress of enlightened public opinion in respect to the conditions under which rapid transit extensions should be granted. Like Mr. Claflin himself, they are as a rule large capitalists; and they have a tendency to bow meekly to the pressure which is exercised by other capitalists, in favor of excessively long leases. But Mr. Grout belongs to a totally different class. His point of view is as different on the one hand from Mr. William R. Hearst, as it is on the other hand, from that, say of Mr. Albert Boardman. He proposes neither to antagonize private capital, nor to yield to its excessive claims. During the four years of his Controllorship, and his consequent membership of the Board, his only interest was to lay out rapid transit routes, which would be of most use to the public, and provoke the liveliest competition on the part of private bidders. He has no theories to press, nor any axes to grind. He is prepared to advocate municipal construction, if that is the only way in which the best rapid transit system can be obtained; but he has no prejudice in favor of municipal construction and operation, provided private capitalists can be employed on fair terms to do the work. In case he receives the appointment and accepts it, the city will be restoring to public service a man whose experience and ability both entitle him to such employment. It is in this way that good public servants are obtained; and if the Mayor receives the appointment of the members of the Rapid Transit Commission he should and doubtless will select, whenever possible, just such men—men that is, who have held a responsible elective position, and have in this way proved their competence and received their training.

The Street Opening Bill.

To the Editor of the Record and Guide:

Senate Bill 970 is before the Governor for his action, and relates to Street Opening proceedings. It changes the principles underlying these proceedings, in force since 1813, under which a well defined system has grown up. We have always had three commissioners to pass upon the awards and assessments, but this new bill provides for three commissioners on awards and one commissioner on assessments, splitting up the proceeding with two reports. It is reasonable to assume that this one assessing commissioner will be a nominee of the City, and thus the only safeguard of three commissioners on assessments is wiped out. The worst part of the bill is, that the assessing commissioner gets 50c. for each city lot that he assesses, so that his mind will not be directed to ascertain the area of benefit, but will be extended to increase his fees. It is easier to get a reconsideration of an assessment from three commissioners than from one. I consider the bill most prejudicial to property owners, and as a commissioner, know how it will be worked against them.

The bill was rushed through without general notice of its import, until it came up before the Mayor, and many of the Senators with whom I have spoken knew nothing about it. It is opposed before the Governor now by all the great estates in New York, and a number of operators in real estate.

Yours very truly, JNO. H. JUDGE.

Theodore Starrett Going West.

Theodore Starrett, president of the Thompson-Starrett Company, will leave for San Francisco during the coming week, in order to look over the building situation there. There is no reason to doubt that the Thompson-Starrett Company will figure very importantly in the rehabilitation of the unfortunate city.

—In the same numerical proportion the people of Manhattan Island have not owned property as have the inhabitants of other cities. It has not been within the ability of a fair-doing man of family to buy or build a private dwelling in old New York for many years, and families have been obliged to live in a manner not only unsuited to their tastes, but also contrary to nature. Long deprivation has accumulated in the breasts of most Manhattan families an intense feeling for home ownership, and a great deal of the remarkable new interest in real estate is ascribable to this natural feeling asserting itself, in the belief that the railroads are about to make home ownership possible by providing access to cheaper territories. A buying movement representing only the proportionate difference in the number of house owners here and the number elsewhere would constitute a tremendous demand of itself, and undoubtedly this pressure is getting behind the suburban movement—like steam behind a piston.

Lessons from San Francisco

Prominent Metropolitan Builders Discuss the Great Question of the Day

NEW YORK architects and builders are earnestly discussing the best method and means of reconstructing San Francisco, and necessarily also the most enduring forms of building for Manhattan and every other compact city. As will be noted in the very representative opinions given herewith, our builders and engineers concur in recommending the steel skeleton and concrete and to some extent the reinforced steel systems, for office and business buildings, churches and even residences. The view is generally held that on account of the large amount of important building about to be started here, the lessons to be learned from the San Francisco disaster should receive careful and immediate attention from all concerned.

There is expected to be a great demand for skilled labor, especially for draftsmen, and for mechanics trained in fireproof construction. Already tempting inducements are being made for a quick supply of New York draftsmen. A considerable number of engineers and architects are going from here. D. H. Burnham & Co., architects of the Wanamaker store, will open offices in San Francisco. Mr. Theodore Starrett will personally visit the wrecked city. The Milliken Bros. and Frank B. Gilbreth are already well represented on the coast, having done much work there recently. Mr. Burnham, under a prior commission from the city council, has prepared and presented a scheme for the beautification of San Francisco.

The City and Suburban Homes Co., 281 4th av, builders, has offered San Francisco its plans and specifications, complete, suitable for model homes and tenements. John C. Neale, structural engineer, has left for San Francisco to take charge of the structural force of the United States Steel Corporation. David Graham, of the United States Government Bureau of Construction, in the Philippines, and formerly with the George A. Fuller Co., and a nephew of Architect Thomas Graham, has also left for San Francisco. The George A. Fuller Co. is also sending representatives. President Paul Starrett remarked on Monday that he was confident that the steel buildings would give a good account of themselves.

Mr. Thomas Graham, the architect, has volunteered to President Roosevelt his services to assist in the rebuilding the United States property destroyed in San Francisco. Mr. Graham says that he has done this for the reason that he and his associates have studied and tested the new concrete construction, and in their judgment this will be the best for building in San Francisco. He says: "We can construct a building under this system that will be earthquake proof, fireproof and waterproof. The exterior and interior can be made artistic in the highest degree and as durable as stone."

Cement the Safest Material.

MR. HOPPER ON THE GREAT PROBLEM.

Isaac A. Hopper, Esq., President of the Building Trades Employers' Association and former Superintendent of Buildings in Manhattan, on being asked for an expression of opinion on the lessons in building construction that the recent California disaster teaches, remarked:

"I have taken the matter up for thought several times, and each time the problem appeared to be so great and far-reaching that I hardly feel equal to the occasion. One thing appeals very strongly to me, though, and that is the necessity of finding some inflammable material for general use in our building construction.

"It seems to me that up to the present time cement is the safest material, and I believe at this time that concrete, both in block and reinforced forms, is our safest and best, and will grow in the confidence of architects and builders, from the fact that it is non-combustible and the most economical material known at this time."

Is Manhattan Safe?

THE TIDEWATER BUILDING COMPANY'S PRESIDENT GIVES A CONDITIONAL ANSWER.

"In the light of the recent disaster in San Francisco, the answer to your question, 'Is New York (Manhattan) a safely built town?' can only be given conditionally," said Mr. Milton Napier, of the Tidewater Building Company. "Under ordinary conditions, there is no doubt that our modern structures will be secure for decades to come. What would happen in the event of an earthquake would depend entirely upon the extent of the shock.

"Man, in his comparative weakness, cannot pretend to oppose the forces of Nature. The best he can do is to learn by experience and be governed accordingly. He cannot direct Nature; he must follow her. The Egyptians, in the erection of their structures (pyramids), followed Nature in her mountain building by providing a base as broad or broader than the height. These structures have stood the test of time, but such building is impossible in Manhattan.

"We cannot confine our methods to mountain construction, but we can follow Nature to a limited extent: as she constructs a tree, built to withstand the elements, not by reason of a broad base, but by the depth of the roots, and elasticity of the trunk and branches. It will bend with the wind, but will return to its natural position as soon as the pressure is relieved.

"The modern steel-frame building comes nearer to combining the qualities of toughness and elasticity, and will permit of greater vibration without fear of rupture than any other form of construction. This type of building withstood the ravage of fire in Baltimore, and both earthquake and fire in San Francisco, better than any other type; and we are convinced that the development of construction on Manhattan Island during the past 15 years has tended to make the city safer than it ever was before."

Monolithic Construction Favored.

FRANK B. GILBRETH ALSO FAVORS REINFORCED CONCRETE.

Referring to the recent disaster, Mr. Frank B. Gilbreth, who has large structural enterprises under way on the Western coast, states:

"While it is practically impossible to put up any structure which is able to withstand an earthquake shock of great intensity and varying motion, it is possible to erect buildings capable of weathering a shock such as the recent one in San Francisco. The great devastation resulted more from the flame than from the earthquake itself, and this fact emphasizes the importance of using reinforced concrete for fireproof structures. It is safe to say that if the business section of the city had been constructed of reinforced concrete the fire resulting from the upheaval would never have gained headway."

Mr. Gilbreth firmly believes that San Francisco will be rebuilt, and has representatives on the scene, from whom he is getting reports of conditions there. The advantages of the monolithic concrete construction have been made apparent by the catastrophe, as in a building of that kind there are no loose blocks to fall off or injure passersby during a slight earthquake shock. The Columbia Improvement Company, of Seattle, for which Mr. Gilbreth is building a $500,000 plant, has already taken warning from the San Francisco cataclysm, and in building a half-million dollar power house has ordered a monolithic concrete construction to insure the maximum stability. Mr. Gilbreth thinks it is probable that capitalists will refuse to invest money in San Francisco except in this form of structure.

Steel Skeleton Type Reliable.

MILLIKEN BROTHERS SAY THAT IT WITHSTANDS SHOCKS IN JAPAN AND CENTRAL AMERICA.

"The only information that we have as yet received from San Francisco relative to the recent disaster there is news that we have received from the daily press. Therefore it is very difficult for us to pass any opinion on the condition of the fireproof buildings that have passed through the earthquake shock and fire.

"For a number of years past we have had an office in San Francisco and have furnished a great deal of the structural steel work for some of the large and important buildings built there and in other cities on the Pacific slope. We are informed that all of our office force are safe and not injured, as, fortunately, most of them lived outside of San Francisco proper. We have not been able at this writing to find out what loss we have suffered in our office proper, as our representatives have not yet been able to reach the city. We have, however, opened a temporary office in Oakland, which is across the bay from San Francisco, and duplicates of the records in our San Francisco office are being forwarded from this office, so that we are prepared to handle any business that comes up in that locality. We have a very large stock of raw material on hand, and are able to make very quick shipments of any structural steel work that will be required. Our new steel plant and rolling mill will be in operation early next fall, when we will have increased facilities for furnishing this class of work.

"We have completed the structural steel work for the new Humboldt Bank, which is to be erected in San Francisco, and we are awaiting shipping instructions.

"For a number of years we have had offices in Mexico City and in San Francisco. Both Mexico and California are subject to earthquake shocks. Our experience in both of these cities has been that skeleton steel buildings are the only kind of structures that withstand these shocks. Some years ago, after building the first steel skeleton building in Mexico City, i. e., Boker Building, they had a very violent earthquake, and a number of houses were absolutely destroyed, and in a great many instances walls were thrown out of plumb, cornices, chimneys and gables fell, and yet this building withstood the shock without any damage whatever and with wall perfectly plumb.

"The writer examined one of the highest buildings in San Francisco some years ago after they had had a slight earthquake, and the only appreciable damage was some slight cracks in the plastering—a thing that was easily remedied.

"Our opinion is that a steel skeleton building, being constructed like a bridge, properly braced and tied together, will prove to be sufficiently elastic to withstand severe earthquake shocks without endangering the safety of the building.

"Buildings of this character have been furnished in Japan, where earthquakes are of almost daily occurrence, and have proved this theory to be correct. Certain portions of Central and South America are also subject to earthquakes, and we have never heard any complaint about the numerous structures which we have erected in those countries."

No More Half-Way Building.

MR. THEODORE STARRETT'S INTERESTING COMMENTS.

It is very much to be feared that San Francisco will misconstrue the kindly interest in her fate which zealous newspaper writers have reported as having been aroused in the minds of some of the builders in other cities.

What the San Francisco builders have thought or would like to have said has not transpired. I hope that they won't take it as much to heart as did the Baltimoreans on the occasion of their great fire in 1904. For then the generous and free-handed fellows of the building fraternity who rushed down to the Belvedere Hotel, at the time only barely finished and, before the catastrophe, wondering how it was going to make a living—who came down, as I was saying, on the Belvedere Hotel and literally ate—and drank—the whole cupboard bare and filled every room and every bed and actually slept in the chairs in the lobby—these free-handed fellows of the building fraternity who saved the Belvedere Hotel's bacon and made it fairly stagger under the weight of its prosperity—those builders, I repeat to keep the reader from losing the thread of this discussion, those architects, engineers and builders got the cold shoulder from the hospitable Baltimoreans.

I hope it will not be so in San Francisco.

Now that one of them has a chance to speak for himself let it be said that the San Francisco lesson is but a repetition of the Baltimore lesson. That lesson is: Build skeleton construction only and build it fireproof. No half-way business. Don't depend on a fire department. Don't trust to luck. Learn the lesson and do the only thing left that is absolutely safe.

I have heard from a man who went through the fire—I saw a telegram from him to a friend in New York—that one of the skyscrapers in San Francisco, an absolutely fireproof one, by the way, was doing business on April 26th, the date of the telegram, the same as though there had been no earthquake and no fire.

I hope the telegraph is correct. I believe it is, for I know it can be correct. It is well, however, to make some mental reservation after all the conflicting reports and all the comment that has appeared thereon.

San Francisco will profit by the Baltimore lesson, but she will do more: She will profit by the earthquake lesson, and, what is probably best of all, the great scheme of beautification and rearrangement upon which Daniel H. Burnham, the architect of the World's Columbian Exposition, has been engaged for the last four or five years will undoubtedly be consummated, a thing which probably would never have come to pass had there been no earthquake and no fire.

And let there not be any fear as to the ease with which the work can be done, at least as far as the country's facilities are concerned. Steel will be—certainly should be—largely used. Portland cement for reinforced construction ought to be consumed in vast quantities and doubtless will be. Brick and stone and terra cotta and lumber will be required in an enormous scale.

But nothing need be over-taxed. Consider merely the question of steel. Some early estimates stated that 250,000 tons would be required. That wouldn't over-tax the United States Steel Corporation with its annual capacity of 9,000,000 tons—less than two weeks' work at the most. But now comes the Iron Age with the statement that Baltimore only consumed 37,000 tons of steel since the fire to date. There would seem to be not much cause for anxiety about steel for San Francisco. And so it will be with other materials.

What is needed most of all is to know how to rebuild and to do it right. The hardest part to do is the brain-work involved in the reconstruction. When the details are finished the manufacture of materials and the erection of them will be comparatively easy.

Mortgage Taxation Question.

REAL ESTATE INTERESTS STILL HOPE FOR SATISFACTORY LEGISLATION.

The ultimate results of the pending legislation affecting the mortgage tax will probably be satisfactory to real estate interests. This is the expectation at the present time, after the disappointments occasioned by the Governor's veto. President B. Aymar Sands, of the Allied Real Estate Interests, holds to this opinion. A bill more technically perfect than the one which was vetoed was started through the mill of the Legislature on Monday night, and is expected to come out in good form and receive the approval of the Governor. Then, with mortgage money easier, more confidence will be manifested by the buying public.

Mr. Lawson Purdy, of the New York Tax Reform Association, informs the Record and Guide that he has strong hopes of the passage of a recording tax bill at this session that will practically be as satisfactory as the bill that was vetoed.

Early in the week President B. Aymar Sands, of the Allied Real Estate Interests, speaking to the Record and Guide, said:

"Amendments to the bill which recently passed the Legislature were introduced on Monday night to meet the criticisms contained in the Governor's message, and it is believed that the bill as so amended will be approved by the Governor. With one exception, the Governor's criticisms were of a purely technical nature, and are being met by changes which will not affect the business features of the bill.

"The most important change which will be necessitated by the objection of the Governor is in the clause which allowed old mortgages, or mortgages made before the 1st of July, 1906, to take advantage of the recording feature of the new law by paying one-half per cent., and thereby securing exemption from other taxation. The Governor thought that old mortgages were not entitled to this relief, and, therefore, deeming it of vital importance that the present annual tax law should be repealed and a recording tax substituted, we have met his views in this respect. The result is unfortunate, as all old mortgages become personalty, subject to assessment of local taxation. The result will be that where such mortgages are held by persons or estates whose names are on the assessment books, they will be called at maturity by such holders, and the moneys reinvested in mortgages recorded after the 1st of July, 1906. The owners of real estate, the mortgages on which are called on this account, will, therefore, be compelled to pay the expenses of procuring new loans. While this is to be regretted, we, at the same time, will have much cause for encouragement in the adoption of the recording tax principle.

"I think that the results will be generally satisfactory to all persons interested in real estate, and that the rate of interest on mortgages will be materially lowered."

Staten Island Villas.

ACTIVITY IN THE MARKET FOR PLOTS.—IMPORTANT SALES OF RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY.

Percival G. Ullman, Jr., of the Princess Bay Realty Co., with offices at Pleasant Plains, Staten Island, and 36 and 38 Whitehall st, Manhattan, says the increasing demand for Staten Island acreage proceeds undiminished. "In the Fourth and Fifth Wards," said Mr. Ullman, "we are especially busy. Within the past ninety days we have sold large tracts of acreage on the South Side for residential purposes, among our list being a very desirable tract of eighty-seven acres with two miles of road front belonging to R. W. Nelson, president of the American Type Founders' Co., of Jersey City; a large tract to the Equitable Realty Co., of New York, and other tracts to large corporations and investors. Prices are steadily advancing from $300 per acre to $500 per acre.

"On the North Side we have transferred large water front tracts for factory purposes, among which sales is a tract of land with 2,000 ft. of desirable water front to the Arthur Kill Land and Water Front Co., of New York. This class of property from Tottenville to Chelsea has increased in price, owners asking $200 a front foot, some $1,000 per acre and $1,500 per acre.

"Acreage in the Fourth and Fifth Wards is especially desirable for suburban homes. Our land lies well and our surroundings are attractive. We are as near the City Hall in point of time as the Bronx (eliminating the subway as a means of conveyance). On every side we hear of quicker transit facilities between Manhattan and Richmond. If carried into effect this would make the subway look like a back number in so far as real rapid transit is concerned. The way to accomplish this real rapid transit is by two steel tubes under the bay from the Borough of Manhattan to the Borough of Richmond, with a schedule time for the five miles of six minutes, not an impossibility. With interior facilities equal, such as electric railroads and trolleys, this would bring every section of Staten Island within twenty-five minutes of the City Hall, at a nominal fare of five cents.

Title Company's New Home.

TYPICAL OF NEW-CENTURY METHODS IN DESIGN AND CONSTRUCTION—FOR THE SOLE OCCUPANCY OF THE OWNER.

SOME TIME during the month of May the Title Guarantee & Trust Company expects to move to the new white granite edifice at 176 Broadway. The company's first office was in the Potter Building, from which the business was removed to 55 Liberty st, and about ten years ago the quarters there were outgrown and the company removed to its present location, 146 Broadway. These quarters have been very much cramped for three or four years and the erection of the new building at 176 Broadway was the result. It is one of the few large buildings downtown erected for the exclusive use of the owner, as it has been decided by the company to rent none of its extra space. The building was constructed by the Thompson-Starrett Co. from plans of the architects, Messrs. Howells & Stokes. The front occupies 75 ft. on Broadway, and is of white granite quarried in Bethel, Vt. There is only one other sample of this granite in New York, namely, the Payne Whitney house on 5th av. The granite is as soft and white as marble and will probably be much used in New York in the future. The architecture of the façade is an adaption of the Palladian style with an order of pilasters rising 62 ft. above the first story, which forms their base. The capitals of these pilasters are the largest that we know of in New York, of this type, being 9 ft. across the top of the Corinthian abacus. Owing to the very large scale of the building it has been possible to successfully introduce a story in the height of the frieze, and the composition ends above this with a 1-sty attic and balustrade.

Between the first and second stories runs a heavy ornamental band carrying the title of the building. The carving on the front has necessarily been simple, to suit granite, but for granite carving it is extremely rich. It is only after this carving has been uncovered that the public will appreciate the extreme beauty and artistic merit of this façade. The main feature of the building, however, is its suitability to the purposes for which it has been built. Every inch of space in the building has been made a matter of careful study between the architects and the head of the department that is to occupy it. Before a stroke of work was done, the desk of every employee was located on the plans, due consideration being given to the space needed, including the question of accessibility of the public or necessary privacy from the public.

Entering the center of the Broadway front, the public finds itself in a domed rotunda distributing in three directions, into the large banking and business room. The customers for the banking department enter on the right, for the mortgage department on the left, and for the title insurance in the center. The central entrance is through a 20-ft. archway, affording the best view of the great room, the ceiling of which is supported by two rows of columns. Around the rear of this room runs a mezzanine gallery of horseshoe form, surrounded by a rich wrought-iron railing with a motif in the centre, which consists of a sculptured clock surmounting the door leading into the officers' private rooms. The ground floor, vestibule and rotunda are lined above with marble of different types; the floor of the vestibule and the main room is tessellated marble, and a marble wainscoting runs along the walls.

The banking screen of marble and bronze has been built by the Tiffany Studios, and is a rare sample of artistic work. For the convenience of the public, the closing room has been put on the second floor. The reception part of the closing room is 22 ft. high. Surrounding this are two stories of ordinary rooms in which the titles of the company may be closed with absolute privacy. Each room has a separate entrance, so that it is not necessary to pass through another room to reach it.

The third floor is likewise a double story, devoted to the examination of titles. The part occupied by the examiners and the clerical members of the force again has a ceiling 22 ft. high, resulting in a perfect distribution of light and air. The rear wings of this floor have been divided into two stories of small rooms where the attorneys who make a final disposition of the examination of titles can do their work in private and without interruption.

The fourth floor is devoted to the storage of the company's plant, but the part occupied by clerks is again 22 ft. in height and absolutely light. The fifth floor contains a handsome board room, and the remainder of the fifth and sixth floors are devoted to the surveying department and the clerical work of the company. The building is lighted by a large rear court which forms a series of skylights over the ground floor, the best light throughout the building. In connection with each floor, where required, are extensive fireproof vaults in which the records of the company can be safe from fire and yet be available for instant consultation. The main security vault on the first floor was built by the York Safe Co., of York, Pa., and is as near burglar proof as such vaults can be made.

The Building O' It.

BY THEODORE STARRETT.

Merely as a feat in construction the Title Guarantee & Trust Building is a most interesting operation. The methods used mark a distinct advance beyond any similar work that I know of.

During the building of this structure the entire sub-basement was occupied by various kinds of hoisting and other engines—for boring the holes for the plunger elevators, for compressing the air used in the carving, but not a pound of coal was burned. The hoisting engines and the boring machines were all electric; the air compressor was run by gasoline. No coal smoke was allowed to belch out and saturate the structure with blackness and dirt.

A very interesting thing is the foundation. It was necessary to go down eight feet below the foundations of the adjoining buildings in order to get room for the boilers, which are in the sub-basement. This was done without the use of any pneumatic work. The boiler room space was surrounded by interlocking steel piling driven down six feet below the bottom of the foundation. This formed a water tight rim which sustained the surrounding soil perfectly.

The work of installing the foundation was a very slow and tedious one. Each part of the work was done with as much care and caution as though the builders had five years in which to do the work instead of as many months.

The skeleton was not finished until the middle of January, but owing to the forethought and the thoroughness used in the preparation of the various parts of the finish, both interior and exterior, the work of installation of these elements had advanced so far that the upper portions of the building were ready for the trim and finished floors during the month of March.

Regarded as a machine, for such it is, the Title Guarantee & Trust Building is a wonderful structure. From top to bottom everything is specially designed for occupancy by the company's own staff of employees, and the conveniences, not to say luxuries, that have been provided for the entire office force in the way of perfect ventilation and temperature regulation equal if they do not indeed surpass the refinements which only Croesuses are supposed to enjoy. Such regard for the health and comfort of the clerks is not a sentimental thing, but is really induced by an enlightened spirit of enterprise which will undoubtedly be copied by others.

Brooklyn to the Fore

Best Real Estate Business Ever Known in the Borough
This Spring Season

BROOKLYN in its real estate interests at this present time, on the edge of May, is different from Brooklyn in any previous springtime. To the discerning man active in real estate and building one season is not exactly like any other corresponding in the calendars of previous years. He notes differences in the public feeling, in the kind of people buying, differences in what is liked or disliked, greater or less financial ability on the part of the people, more ambition, more enthusiasm, or less, as seasons come and go. Sometimes there is more willingness to pay the price or the rent, or less contentment and less satisfaction with houses and apartments—there are various things which a specialist in real estate notes to make one spring season very distinct from another in his recollections. This present spring has made a pleasant picture in his mind.

He has noted less irritation among the women house-hunters. Last spring there were premonitions of a panic because of the inability to supply the demand for rooms. Inquirers in great number returned to Manhattan unsuccessful in finding homes in Brooklyn. It will be remembered that South Brooklyn was particularly congested. Agents report that this has been the most satisfactory spring in the history of Brooklyn real estate. Renters have been pretty well supplied, with some houses and apartments left over for a later month. As a statement of average fact, it can be said that rents have not been raised; rather have they been for some classes of property made more moderate, because of a lessening of pressure. On the other hand, money being more plentiful, families have been better able to consult their tastes for more refined living than at any period since the long business depression which set in in the year 1893. More comfort and satisfaction in life is now being taken in Brooklyn than in a great many years. In fact, one need not be so very old to remember the weariness of the horse-car and omnibus days, which circumscribed the population very much. We were just entering, fifteen years ago, upon just such a period as we are having now, when something happened to financial affairs, and they went all to pieces. Since 1898 business has been getting reorganized and regulated to new conditions, and families to new ways of living, so that the year 1906 finds people with more money than ever before, full of ambition to make more, and very desirous of having nice homes.

It is therefore true that more people in proportion to population are interested in real estate and less in stock gambling, gold mines and distant swindling games, than ever. They feel

THE REALM OF BUILDING

Building Operations.

San Francisco Work.

Humboldt Savings and Loan Society have retained the services of Meyer & O'Brien, San Francisco architects, for the erection of their new 12-story building on the south side of Market st, between 3d and 4th sts. The first story of this building will be entirely of granite and the remaining stories will be of stone and cast iron. One of the features will be the large and oval arrangement of the banking counters with a public space in the centre. Milliken Bros. (New York) have the contract for the steel work.

McAdoo's Terminal Station at 6th Av. & 9th St.

6TH AV.—The Record and Guide is informed that work will be commenced on or about May 1 tearing down old buildings and clearing the site at 6th av, the northeast corner 9th st, to make way for the new Hudson and Manhattan Tunnel substation, which will connect with the two underground Hudson River tunnels at this point. The building will cover a plot, L shape, of 50x100 ft. on 6th av and on 9th st of 40x100 ft. The site abuts the property of Park & Tilford, and formerly belonged to the Kelly estate.

Plans for Broadway Elevator Apartment.

BROADWAY.—Messrs. Mulliken & Moeller, 7 West 38th st, have been commissioned to prepare plans for the 11-story elevator apartment house which the One Hundred and Tenth St. Co., 7 East 42d st, will build on Broadway, the northeast corner, and 101st st, at a cost of $700,000. There will be apartments for 38 families, of four families on a floor. The exterior will be of limestone and terra cotta, and the interior will have every equipment for housekeeping purposes. No building contract has yet been awarded. (See issue of April 7, 1906.)

Stewart Building Plans.

BROADWAY.—No architect has yet been commissioned to prepare plans for alterations to be made to the old Stewart Building, at Broadway and Chambers st. The structure is to be remodeled, converting the basement into a large restaurant and arcade 28 ft. wide, with entrances on Chambers and Reade sts. Felix Isman, No. 1328 South Penn sq, Philadelphia, Pa., the new owner, left on Saturday for a brief business trip to Europe, and Leopold Weil, who represents Mr. Isman, informs the Record and Guide that nothing will be done until Mr. Isman's return.

Important Contracts to E. E. Paul.

116TH ST.—The Densmore & Compton Building Co., 307 5th av, has just awarded to Builder E. E. Paul, No. 289 4th av, the general contracts for two fireproof elevator apartment houses, one 14-stys to be situated on a plot 75x100 ft. on the south side of 116th st, 100 ft. west of Broadway, immediately opposite Barnard field. Professors of Columbia University will occupy the building. The architecture will be similar to the University buildings, in brick and marble, and cost approximately $400,000. Also by the same company for a 12-story high-class elevator apartment house, 100x100 ft., to be erected at Nos. 100 to 108 East 58th st. No sub-contracts have been made for this work. C. W. Buckham is the company's architect.

Concrete Church Building for Brooklyn.

PACIFIC ST.—Adriano Armezzani, 33-35 Van Houten st, Paterson, N. J., and Thomas Graham, 2269 Washington av, Bronx, associate architects, are preparing plans for a church building, to be situated on Pacific and Sackman sts, Brooklyn, on a plot 250x100 ft. The structure is to be composed entirely of concrete block construction, 1-story and basement in height, in the Roman style of architecture, and cost about $100,000. All columns, cornices, mouldings, stairways, partitions, etc., will be of concrete. The building will be erected by the Church of Our Lady of Loretto, of which the Rev. Vincent Sorrentine, 22 Powell st, Brooklyn, is pastor. Federici, Armezzani & Co., 33 Van Houten st, Paterson, N. J., are the contractors.

Frank B. Gilbreth to Erect McGraw Building.

29TH ST.—The McGraw Publishing Co., 114 Liberty st, have just placed a contract with Frank B. Gilbreth, 34 West 26th st, for the erection of a new building to be erected in 29th st, between 7th and 8th avs. The plot is 126.4x98.9. It is planned to make this structure 10 stories high, with the lower four floors devoted to printing machinery, the top floor to an engraving establishment and the remaining floors to offices. It is proposed to build entirely of reinforced concrete. It will be among the most important concrete structures in New York City, and will have much influence in determining the future of such building, but until the specialists who are preparing the plans and the Building Department of the city, which must approve them, have definitely reached a conclusion, no definite plans can be made. The building is designed by Professor Wm. H. Burr and Messrs. Radcliffe and Kelley, of No. 3 West 29th st. W. S. Timmis will be in charge of the mechanical equipment of the printing offices.

Apartments, Flats and Tenements.

BUILDING NOTES

Mr. D. H. Burnham, the Chicago architect, arrived here from Europe on Thursday.

Arnold W. Brunner, the architect, will be married to a young lady of San Francisco on the 8th of May, and he has departed for that city.

Architect Cass Gilbert has moved his offices from 79 Wall st to No. 11 East 24th st.

The scheme of making New York City pay the San Francisco insurance losses will scarcely work out.

Insurance rates go higher on news from San Francisco. Lucky is the owner who can insure himself.

It is a business mistake to put too young a man in charge of intelligent seniors. He has too many things to unlearn.

Most prosperous real estate era in the history of the city. Every ambitious young man has set his hopes on being a house owner.

Sooner or later a tricky man gets a reputation accordingly, and, being distrusted, his tricks avail him nothing in circles where he is known.

The plant and offices of the Diamond Paste Company have been moved from 134 Pearl street to Nos. 125 and 127 Front street. This company makes a specialty of manufacturing adhesive pastes, gums, etc., for every purpose. Telephone, 2370 John.

Robert E. Kelly, builder and general contractor, for some years located at 121 East 41st st, has removed his office and shop to 220 East 41st st, near 3d av. Mr. Kelly has for some years made a specialty of contracting for the alteration of private dwellings for business purposes in the 5th av district.

Columbia University, Department Mechanical Engineering, held a fire test on April 29 of a plaster block partition constructed by the Wise Fireproofing & Construction Co., at the Columbia fire testing station, on 116th st, one block west of Broadway. The test was conducted under the supervision of the Bureau of Buildings.

Especially opportune at this time is the pamphlet issued by the National Fireproofing Co. called "The City Unburnable." This describes the best modern practice in fireproof construction, emphasizing the good qualities of burnt clay fireproofing. The new fire insurance underwriters' laboratory, Chicago, Ill., is illustrated and carefully described.

The American Loktile Co.'s factories, at Alexandria, Va., have opened an office in New York in the Metropolitan Building under the direction of O. B. Blackburn, a Kentuckian of wide experience, and F. Kessing, formerly of the National Fireproofing Co. This concern begins business here under fine conditions—good product, able management, and good contracts secured in advance.

Opened this week to the sixth floor, the new Wanamaker Building, 16 stories high, makes its owner the largest dry goods merchant in the city. He did not have to furnish it with fireproof wood counters, shelves and partitions. Internally, the most prominent architectural feature is the rotunda and its white marble balustrades. The various departments are arranged on exceptional plans, especially the second floor, which is given up exclusively to pianos, and is divided off into rooms, such as the Empire room, the Colonial, Dutch, Venetian, Gothic and Italian Renaissance. Floor No. 3, devoted to china and glassware, is finished in white and mahogany, and the tables are mahogany, some with mirror tops. Grill work is set between the sections into which the room is divided. The building has 18 elevators, automatic sprinklers and exceptionally elaborate lighting fixtures.

Brooklyn Realty to the Fore.

that money invested in real property is the one kind of investment that is safe and at the same time profitable. Brooklyn property has won and retained a place in popular affection as no other borough has or ever will, seeing that Manhattan property is mostly for the professional speculator, rich corporations and rich investors generally, that most of the desirable parts of the Bronx are still inaccessible, and that Richmond also is not easily reached. When men must pay more than a stated daily sum for fare they prefer a home up the Sound or up the Hudson, or in the Jerseys. Brooklyn is the place that responds most kindly to the home feeling of the Manhattan office man of family." This is the ultimate verdict that home seekers for generations have reached. Perhaps it may be modified by the tremendous changes the next twenty years will bring in transportation facilities—for these will surely distribute the population over a vast territory.

Most pronounced of all the feelings which agents have noticed this year is the desire of families to get into small houses, whether as owners or renters, and in this connection it is noticed that the houses built in former years in old Brooklyn, especially the brick and stone houses, are not well adapted to the present demands. At current quotations they may at the first glance be considered somewhat too costly to be occupied by one family alone, and the majority are not suited for two families, though more and more made to serve this purpose. Hence the great demand of this season is for real 2-family houses with double improvements. For these Flatbush and the new sections find that families have been willing to pay almost any price within reason; but it is observed that terms and prices have been raised this spring beyond what will sell them readily. A considerable number of houses finished last fall are still unsold, and a good many upper parts are vacant, and it would seem as if the limit had been reached for the present.

It now costs to take title to some of those 2-family houses in Flatbush about $85 or a $100 a month over and above the rent the owner is supposed to receive from his tenant, and every month's rent lost means so much more that he must pay, or lose his house. On finding this out it begins to appear to many that a family can have a whole house for less money, and with less risk, by purchasing in other parts of the city, and by making a little larger initial payment—which the class of people are mostly able to do. For example, a man may purchase for $7,000 a 2-sty and basement single family house in either the Bedford or Stuyvesant section, make a cash payment of $3,000, give a straight mortgage for the rest, and the monthly expense of his house will be only $25. He thus will obtain a whole house to himself, and what sort of a flat could one rent for that expenditure in Manhattan? This is every cent that the house will cost him to live in, except the loss of interest on the cash payment. He is almost certain of being able to sell his dwelling for as much as he pays for it whenever he likes, though he must be content to live in a row, not to have a piazza to smoke on in the evening, and to do without a lawn all around the house. But then this is a world of compromises. The 2-family house is all right if it is bought right, but it is plain that there is a line beyond which a family might as well have a house all to themselves. Still if one has a little cash and likes a cottage home, why not buy a plot in Flatbush, Bensonhurst, Borough Park, Kensington on an investment much less than a 2-family house requires?

Perhaps it is because young families have been reasoning things out some such way as this that there is this spring in Brooklyn an especially strong demand for single family houses of moderate prices. Those who cannot afford brick and stone houses or a suburban cottage are taking the frame houses in the old sections. When these are in good repair and have some features of individuality they command good prices. Flats are the least heard of houses in the market this year. Basement houses with extensions that permit of three or more large rooms on a floor and arranged for two families, command very high figures, and this is a model which builders are now taking up.

One great trouble with Brooklyn building has been that the people have not learned to build their own houses, as is the general custom in smaller towns. Owners in these cities buy their own site, select their architect, plans and mechanics and get a home to their liking quite different from others, and pay less money than the builder charges for a ready-made. It is more trouble, but it pays.

Had this been the custom here Brooklyn would not have been afflicted with so many rows of houses all alike, and most of them with only two rooms on the basement and parlor floors. The greater number of small plot buyers in the new sections indicates a change of policy in this respect. Most of these buyers are young men who were reared in small towns, by the way, and who understand that the surest profit in real estate is made by the builder. The man who buys a lot and builds a house with a measure of judgment is sure at least of one profit, and, in these times, is also reasonably certain of a second. The chances are that, as he would build a house to please himself, he would please others as well, and they would be willing to pay him an extra price for it—much larger than for one merely built to sell. It is a mistake to think that the amount of cash that will buy a house ready-made will not build one to order.

By Trolley to Queens Next Year.

By the end of next year the writer expects to ride under the East River to Queens in a trolley car. Rapid transit to that borough is nearer than generally understood. As the time limit for the Steinway franchise expires in September, 1907, the work must be done by then or the company may have trouble; and the Degnon Contracting Co., which has made a reputation for being on time, has given a definite promise to Mr. Belmont to have the tunnel finished at that time.

This accounts for the extraordinary efforts that are being made to facilitate the work. The Degnon Co. is breaking all records for the rapidity in sub-river tunnelling, being assisted by the unusual circumstance of being able to have four headings to work instead of two, as ordinarily.

It has been learned that the Interborough people, who will operate the tunnel, do not intend to make a physical grade connection between the tunnel and the subway tracks at Park av. The overhead trolley cars from Long Island City will run through the tunnel and around a loop close to the Grand Central station, and passengers will change cars there.

While no definite operating plans have been adopted, it is likely that heavy electric motors will be used to haul the cars in trains of eight or ten from Long Island City and take them back again.

It is thought that by running the trolleys in trains, rather than separately, as they are operated over the Brooklyn Bridge, traffic will be greatly facilitated.

The Interborough officials assume that no successful attempt will be made to invalidate the charter if the tunnel is ready for operation by the end of 1907, although the terms of the franchise seem to require a completed system within the next eighteen months.

—Decided activity is observed in the Central Bridge section of the Bronx, the slightly elevation overlooking the Harlem. There have been many inquiries for lots and houses, but the available supply is small. Owners of dwellings being mostly occupants, generally have no desire to sell. The choicest locations are considered to be those within easy walking distance of the elevated station at 155th st. Values have soared during two years, and last fall the construction of high-class apartment houses was begun. It is the destiny of the southerly end, no doubt, to be built up with multi-family buildings, but for some years to come, at least until the subway up Jerome av, the central and upper parts will remain available for cottages. The property being in strong hands, the opportunities for bargain-hunters have been few, but there are signs of openings to be made more numerous for a good class of home builders. Walter S. Auld and Louis Schrag last week sold for Daniel C. Connell the block front in 167th st, between Nelson and Woodycrest avs, about eighteen lots, to a client.

The property on the Eastern Boulevard formerly owned by the Sisters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul and held by them for over 30 years is about to be subdivided and sold at public auction. Streets are now being laid out through the property to conform to the maps prepared by the city engineers. The property, which comprises about 400 lots, is directly opposite the Westchester Country Club's holdings, and is intersected by the proposed Westchester av extension. Values throughout this entire region have been materially strengthened by the recently announced plan of the Rapid Transit Commission to extend the subway up Westchester av, through Westchester village to the Eastern Boulevard and Pelham road.

Joseph P. Day, auctioneer, will sell at public auction at the Exchange Salesroom, 14 Vesey street, on Tuesday, May 8, 1906, at 12 m., the 24 lots on Riverside Drive from 150th to 151st streets, known as the Mary E. B. Field property. It will be a partition sale, and 75 per cent. of the purchase price may remain on bond and mortgage at 5 per cent. interest. Titles will be insured by the Title Guarantee and Trust Co. without cost to purchasers. Plans to make 150th and 151st streets of the same grade as Broadway and Riverside Drive have been approved by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. Descriptive information may be obtained of the attorneys, Wolf, Kohn & Ullman, 203 Broadway; Henry A. Mark, 146 Broadway, or the auctioneer, 31 Nassau street.

Stewart, was later turned into an office building, which was not very successful. ## DON'T GUESS

A Real Estate Information Service is as necessary in a Real Estate Broker's office as the ticker in the office of a Stock Broker.

A personally maintained Service is inefficient and inordinately Expensive compared with a Big Central Co-operative Service. The Biggest Service is the best, because the advantages of Cooperation are centered there on the biggest scale.

The "Record and Guide" to-day supplies thousands of Brokers and others with information—has been doing so for a generation. Its own records cover the history of ALL transactions of every kind in New York for forty years, and in addition to these it has a COMPLETE PLANT that includes the previous period.

Obviously the "Record and Guide" possesses FULL information covering ALL particulars concerning real estate. Other systems are necessarily either partial or mere second-hand abstracts of the records which the "Record and Guide" has been gathering and publishing in the course of its forty years' history.

If you need Real Estate Information, don't guess. Don't use personal systems. Don't use partial systems. Don't use temporary systems that must be fragmentary and second-hand. Don't use systems built for the use of a few, and that offer you scarcely any of the advantages of cooperation.

USE

Newark is scheduled for a great real estate boom. The Hudson River tunnel companies announce that, in conjunction with the Pennsylvania Railroad, they will operate a speed line to that city.

The profit may be "in the straps," in the shrewd opinion of other business drivers beside rapid transit drivers, but they cannot blame the tortured strap-hangers for protesting.

Company has declared a dividend of four per cent. Prosperity shines on the big corporations in real estate.

Sixty years ago the site of the Stewart Building was bought for $65,000. Since then its value has doubled six times—or on an average once every decade.

As the Real Estate Board of Brokers is raising a fund for the relief of the San Francisco sufferers, any one identified with real estate interests desiring to contribute may send checks, payable to the board, to its rooms at 156 Broadway.

Reiss Bros., real estate brokers and agents of 641 East 161st street, have dissolved partnership, Mr. John Reiss retiring and forming a new partnership with Milton R. Loewy, under the firm name of "Reiss-Loewy Realty Co.," with offices at 731 Melrose avenue.

Mr. A. Halprin, of the firm of Halprin, Diamondston & Levin, has purchased from Dr. H. Siff the 3-sty and basement private dwelling house No. 18 West 114th st, this city, which will be occupied by Mr. Halprin as a residence and office on or about June 1, 1906.

Messrs. John M. Thompson and Burton Thompson announce their association and the incorporation of their firm, with removal of their offices to No. 212 Broadway, Manhattan. The corporation will be styled "John M. Thompson & Co.," 212 Broadway, Manhattan, and 43 Jackson av, Long Island City.

A brick warehouse, with elevator, at Bridgeport, Conn., the present lease of which expires April, 1907, will be sub-let. A brass foundry at the same place, fully equipped, will be either rented or sold. Both of these properties are said to be very desirable, and full particulars concerning them may be obtained by addressing R. H. W., P. O. Box 1025, Bridgeport, Conn.

Frothingham & Moore rented the following Lenox places for the season: The Judge Bishop place to Edw. A. Burdett, the two Bishop estate cottages, No. 1, to H. T. Proctor and No. 2, to Miss Romson; Mrs. Bullard's place, "Highwood," to Mrs. Crane; the Tanner cottage to Miss G. Good for Yonkers! She means to build a railroad connecting the Subway with Getty Square—two miles in length—has arranged for the money, and will begin digging when the Van Courtlandt Park subway extension appears on the horizon. Yonkers means to help herself to what she wants, which means a continuous quick trip to Fulton st, and the greatest real estate boom in her history. A great deal will be heard about Yonkers in the future. So long as she has to depend on the New York Central she is held down, but the Subway extended to Getty Square will annex her directly to the great city.

Labor Matters.

The organization of Brick, Tile and Terra Cotta Workers, recently formed along the Hudson River, has not yet made demands on the manufacturers, but it is expected that action will be taken after all the brickyards have started fully. The recognition of the union and a raise in wages are among the demands said to be proposed by the employees, and a majority of the manufacturers have about decided to grant an increase of wages, but will under no circumstances deal with or recognize the organization. If the individuals see fit to deal with the manufacturers as to wages, the wages may be increased, but if a demand is made as an organization the manufacturers assert that they will close down their yards rather than make brick under such conditions.

Operations at Ridgewood.

Large tracts of undeveloped land lying on both sides of Myrtle av, extending practically from the elevated terminus on Myrtle av to the Manhattan Beach and New York connecting railway crossing, have been acquired by Messrs. Stokes & Knowles, who took an active interest in the promotion of and are charter members of the new Real Estate Exchange, located at Hamburg and Myrtle avs. These gentlemen have been important factors in bringing the Ridgewood section to the attention of investors as a coming section. They have acted for different syndicates which they organized in purchasing, not only the DeBevoise farm, on the north side of Myrtle av, but also the entire holdings of Jacob Blank, which lie on the south side of Myrtle av, and Ridgewood Park will soon be a thing of the past, as it has been purchased by the same brokers, the holdings of their clients in this section alone now aggregating more than $1,000,000. The entire property will be cut up during the present year and disposed of as building lots.

Mr. Robert Spitzer says that in the way of business in the central part of the Broadway section that most of the concerns occupying premises here have long leases yet to run. During the past two years there has been an advance in values of about ten per cent and an increase in rentals of more than twenty-five per cent.

"Many former residents of Manhattan have come to this section and others will come here just as soon as the opportunity is presented to them," says Mr. Spitzer. "At present there is little or no room for a great influx in population. There is almost nothing for rent and little for sale, property owners showing a tendency to hold on to what they possess in the face of a very bright outlook for another big increase in values, just as soon as certain improvements are realized. Old tenants show a great reluctance to move elsewhere, even though rents have been raised on them, for the reason that there is nothing cheaper anywhere. Every section has participated in the advances in rents.

RECORD AND GUIDE QUARTERLY

The annual number of the Record and Guide Quarterly contains all the legal records for the past year concerning real estate and projected buildings, arranged alphabetically and numerically, with invaluable annotations. These are supplemented by tables of important transactions, with typical prices, covering the past quarter of a century or more, accompanied by expert comments; also by a list of realty corporations created during the past two years, with officers and the enterprises in which they are engaged. The whole makes a volume of reference which no real estate man can afford to be without. It should be on every desk and in every library. Its cost is as nothing compared to its value as a time-saver. This important work can be obtained, with three quarterly numbers, for the comparatively small sum of $20. It is published by the Record and Guide, at Nos. 14 and 16 Vesey St., where interested parties may see it and have its uses explained to them. If you cannot call, drop a postal card to the Publisher or call him up on telephone 3157 Cortlandt.

CONVEYANCES

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus implicitly claims to be the owner of it. The street or avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—A $20,000—$30,000 indicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only, and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before second figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction.

MORTGAGES

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we given is taken from the instrument as filed

April 20, 21, 23, 24, 25 and 26.

ONE PER CENT. GAINED—A three or four-story building may be built which will net you about seven per cent. on your investment. If you put in the Luxfer System of Sidewalk Lights you can make the basement as well lit with daylight as are the upper floors, and can in consequence get one per cent. more, perhaps, out of the investment. Anyway it will pay you to send for our man who will explain it to you. 'Phone 3276 Gramercy.

New York, April 26th, 1906.

Editor of Record and Guide:

The lien filed on our buildings at Sherman avenue by Thomas R. White on Wednesday for $2,000 will be bonded.

White undertook to serve this company as superintendent on the job for eight days, but employed a substitute, whom we paid in full.

White has no valid claim upon the company, and the filing of the lien is a futile effort on his part to injure the company's credit with the public at large, which he has threatened to do.

L IQUIDATION on the New York Stock Exchange on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week was almost without precedent in its severity. So rapid was the decline that it uncovered the margins of rich men. In some stocks declines of twenty, thirty, and forty points were common, and it certainly would seem as though the bottom had been reached for the present. The extreme declines caused corresponding advances towards the close of the market, reducing the losses so that some stocks when the gong sounded at three o'clock were higher than they were at the opening on Wednesday. Yet Reading at 112, Amalgamated Copper at 97 $\frac{3}{4}$ , Union Pacific at 138 $\frac{1}{2}$ , St. Paul at 155 $\frac{1}{4}$  and Pennsylvania at 133 $\frac{3}{4}$  were certainly in marked and startling contrast to the prices of these issues a short time ago. The market could have been easily rallied if it suited the powerful interests who are always in control, but it clearly did not suit them. Fundamental conditions are sound and unchanged, however, in spite of insurance investigations, tight money, fire, earthquakes, strikes, Roosevelt manifestos and other disquieting matters of a similar character—not forgetting the ever-threatening railroad rate bill. Some good news would certainly be in order, and there are indications that it is at hand. Surely nothing could be more favorable and encouraging than the latest Pennsylvania railroad report. It shows increases of gross and net earnings for the three months ended March 31 throughout the whole of its extensive system. For its lines east of Pittsburgh and Erie directly operated, there is an increase of upwards of two million dollars in gross, and over a million in net earnings for March, while there are over seven millions in gross and nearly three million, seven hundred thousand in net for the quarter. Such a remarkable showing is unprecedented, and scarcely a bear argument for lower prices for leading railroad stocks. All the railroads are doing relatively well in proportion and their earnings are the best indices of business activity.

MORE THAN fifty millions in gold has already arrived or has been arranged for and foreign exchange still remains at the importation point. Money, therefore, should become easy and Secretary Shaw deserves praise at this particular juncture for making it so. This he has done by authorizing an increase of public deposits with any national bank importing gold, on the importing bank putting up bonds that are a legal investment for savings banks in New York and Massachusetts—these temporary deposits being returned to the Treasury on the arrival of the gold. While it has been necessary to transfer large amounts of money to the Pacific coast, the New York banks have gained considerable additions to their reserves in the net result. Another cause for prospective easier money is the great liquidation that has taken place, which practically began a month ago. In reviewing the cataclysm of this week it may be said that its results point to the probability of the weaker holders being shaken out of the market, that the Reading Pool has sold out and that stronger parties have bought the stock. Moreover, the Standard Oil interests are reported to be very large buyers of stocks. These facts are not consoling to those speculators who have suffered by the decline, but it must be remembered that it is a long time since the bears have had an inning. They waited for an opportunity. It came and they took advantage of it. The bear combination attacked stocks with strategic skill. Vulnerable accounts collapsed before their sinister assaults, resulting in victory for one of the most successful bear campaigns in Wall Street.

THE RECORD AND GUIDE agrees with Controller Metz and the other municipal officials who doubt the desirability of granting a franchise to another telephone company to operate in New York City. We cannot see that the city has anything to gain from such a step, compared to the inconvenience which the competing operations of two telephone systems would force upon thousands of business firms. It is true that the new company offers what appears to be lower rates, but such lower rates would not mean any real saving to the majority of subscribers. All the more prominent business firms would be obliged to install the instruments of both companies—with result that they would pay more in the end for a service which it must be remembered can hardly in any essential particular be improved. The value of a telephone service consists in its promptness, its accuracy, and in the number of people which are accessible by its wires. In all these particulars the service which we now enjoy in New York is one of the best in the world; and the introduction of another system would complicate and confuse it without essentially either economizing or improving it. An instrument which would cost less, but which would reach a much fewer number of subscribers would not be worth anything like as much. There is such a thing as letting well enough alone in the matter of a public service corporation. The existing telephone company has spared no expense in its task of enabling the people of New York to talk promptly and freely one to another, and it has shown, unlike certain other public service corporations, a genuine wish to charge reasonable rates and to satisfy real grievances. The introduction of another system would merely mean the investment of many million dollars of additional capital in the duplication of plants, and in one way or another the people of New York would have to pay the interest upon this unnecessary investment.

THE BUSINESS development of Fifth avenue continues to make slow but sure progress. Recent sales upon the avenue indicate that prices are not merely retained at the high level formerly established, but are still advancing, inside lots being worth from $120 to $140 a square foot, and corners not far from $200. These prices are so high that a constant tendency exists to supersede the existing buildings with skyscrapers over ten stories in height, and the current season will witness the erection of about half a dozen such buildings. Their upper stories will be used for the most part as offices and stores rather than as lofts. One large loft building is indeed being erected on the site of the proposed Hotel Brunswick, but this structure is situated at the southern end of the retail portion of the avenue, and is subject to some of the conditions which prevail south of 23d street. In other instances the upper floors will be used either as retail stores, for tailors and the like, or as offices. They will be inhabited by much the same class of tenants as are the business buildings on the side streets immediately adjacent to 5th av., that is by business firms who want to participate in 5th ave. trade without being able to pay the rent of a ground floor on the avenue. The former practice of building apartment houses with stores on the street level has been entirely superseded. No new tendencies are observable in the character of the business firms which are seeking space on 5th ave; but there continues to be a steady emigration from the vicinity of Madison Square, and further south to locations near and north of 34th street. The piano trade is beginning to share in this movement more emphatically than ever, and in spite of the high standing of the retail firms, which still cling to locations south of 23d street, their removal further north is only a question of time. South of 23d street is becoming almost exclusively a wholesale region, in which the vehicular traffic consists of trucks and not of carriages.

A CONSIDERATION of important value in the rehabilitation of San Francisco is the fact that, unlike New York and most other American cities, it is without municipal debt. Its borrowing capacity is not restricted by prior loans or outstanding obligations. It has a clear field for the construction of a "new city." Unlike most large American cities, which incur heavy bonded obligations that are a draft upon the future, San Francisco adopted the policy of "pay as you go," issuing bonds for needed improvements, but liquidating from taxation other bonds to a like or larger amount at maturity. With real estate of the appraised value of $400,000,000, and personal property of $150,000,000, San Francisco at the close of 1903 owed only $576,000; the debt of Baltimore at the same time being $40,000,000, Cleveland $22,000,000, Buffalo $19,000,000, Pittsburgh $26,000,000 and Cincinnati $35,000,000. These six cities are in one group as to population and resources. The others had a large, San Francisco only a nominal, debt. The tax levy of San Francisco in recent years has been from $4,500,000 to $5,000,000; its current expenses have been met by taxation. Two items of expenditure that bear heavily upon most American cities, San Francisco has been exempt from—the interest on debt and the money set aside from taxation for the sinking fund. New York spends $15,000,000 a year for interest, and $5,000,000 for the sinking fund. San Francisco has had, in recent years an average interest charge of only $25,000. With urgent need of money for rebuilding, the unimpaired excellence of the credit of San Francisco will stand its people in good stead.

The Promise of a New San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCANS are an elastic people, and it is apparent that they are taking their disaster in the best possible spirit. They are determined not merely to make a new city, but to make a better one, and it so happens that the opportunity to make a better city is extraordinary, both in its scope and in its distinction. The city which was just burned down was one of the most interesting in the country, but it was interesting as it were, in spite of itself. It was interesting because its situation was superb, its population gay and sympathetic, and the life they lived novel, varied and exciting. But interesting as it was, the fact remains that of all the badly planned and badly constructed cities in the United States, San Francisco was one of the worst. Its buildings were for the most part unsafe, its parks were far from being as large or as important as they should have been, and the layout of its streets was both inconvenient and ugly. The city as it stood wholly failed to do justice either to the intelligence of its inhabitants or to the rare opportunities of its situation, and it is no wonder, now that it is destroyed, the first thought of its inhabitants should be to rebuild it according to improved methods and on an improved plan.

San Francisco was a city consisting largely of wooden buildings, laid out in rectangular blocks. These wooden buildings were situated not merely in outlying districts, where the cheapness of the land made it possible to detach them one from another, but in the heart of the city, where the buildings were necessarily constructed in rows. San Franciscans looked upon this state of things with equanimity, because, the wood used in the buildings was redwood, and they claimed that redwood burned so slowly that any particular fire could, with the assistance of their very efficient fire department, be readily isolated. Probably there was some truth in this contention, but it is evident that, exposed as San Francisco is to earthquakes, much more stringent precautions must be taken hereafter against the danger of general conflagrations. One of the first conditions of a safer and better city is a new and stricter building code, the provisions of which are adapted to the peculiar liability to earthquakes.

It is not only, however, the local methods of construction which need improvement, but the actual lay-out of the city. Its plan consisted in general, as has been said, of an indefinite series of rectangular blocks, and in this respect it did not differ essentially from other American cities. But the inconveniences and the ugliness of such a plan was in the case of San Francisco raised to an abnormally high power, because the city was built upon a series of steep hills. To impose a gridiron upon such a site meant grades which were in some instances almost too steep to be travelled by a horse. It meant an inconceivable waste of power and an utter sacrifice of the architectural opportunities which these different levels afforded. Furthermore, the high hills situated as they were in the neighborhood of one of the most beautiful sheets of water in the world, also offered opportunity for a series of parks and pleasure grounds which, if they had not been used to the uttermost, would have made San Francisco one of the most beautiful cities in the world. The city was peculiarly adapted by its site, its climate, and the gayety of its inhabitants to become the seat of a national playground to which all Americans might flock when they wished to take a holiday.

The more intelligent residents of San Francisco fully understood both the opportunities which the site of the city afforded, and the extent to which the existing street plan ignored these opportunities, and mutilated the noble hills upon which the city was built, consequently they commissioned Mr. Daniel Burnham some years ago to work out a new plan which should include as much of a revision of the existing street system as was possible, while at the same time providing a more beautiful and convenient lay-out for the future growth of the city. Mr. Burnham's report has recently been published, and it proved to be worthy of the reputation of its author.

There is no space here to go into details, but it can be emphatically stated that Mr. Burnham held a nice balance between the existing imperfect plan and the plan ideally demanded by the location of the city. He provided for an efficient system of intermural communications by means of an exterior boulevard and new diagonal streets, for the centralization of the local private and public business by a great central plaza connected with a circle of smaller squares, for a series of public parks on the summits and slopes of the hills, and for a number of minor changes in the street lines which would rob the approaches of the hills in the older parts of the city of many of their terrors. If this plan could be carried even partially into effect, it would mean not merely a better San Francisco, but a San Francisco which would be much the most convenient and handsomest city in the United States.

Whether or how far it can be carried out is of course entirely a question of time and money. Obviously it is of the utmost importance that San Franciscans should have at the earliest possible moment houses in which to live and in which business can be resumed, and it is also of importance that a city which has suffered such a severe loss should not impose a heavier burden upon its taxable property than can be carried without too much strain. Yet the legal adoption of any important part of the Burnham plan would mean a heavy expense and some considerable delay in rebuilding. It is too early to predict whether these difficulties will or will not prove to be insuperable. Of the two the difficulty of raising the money is most serious, and San Franciscans in their extremity are asking for Federal assistance in the shape of a guaranteed loan. We hope that they will get it, because the rebuilding of San Francisco on an adequate plan is a matter of national as well as of local concern. San Francisco is the metropolitan city of the Pacific coast, and would repay the country for its help by the creation of a city which might well become a national monument. If they do receive this help, its citizens could probably evade the question of delay by erecting along the old street lines temporary structures, which could be subsequently destroyed. On the other hand, if they do not receive such help it is probable that they will have to be content with the adoption of only the most essential portions of the Burnham scheme. It is to be hoped, however, that the efforts which San Franciscans are making to lay out a better city will receive the support of everybody who is interested in the aesthetic improvement of American municipalities. The realization of the Burnham plan in San Francisco would constitute an object lesson of the utmost value to every large city in the United States.

Fire Insurance: The Shock-Taker.

In these days of motor cars we are familiar with the invention which is put on the cars for the sake of receiving a sudden shock or jar, thus lessening the danger to the riders, and also lengthening the life of the vehicle itself.

Within the past five years the nation has had several illustrations of the fact that fire insurance serves modern society in much the same way that our "shock-taker" serves the rider in a motor car. Within that period conflagrations have occurred in Waterbury, Conn.; Rochester, N. Y.; Jacksonville, Fla.; Paterson, N. J.; Toronto, Canada; Baltimore, Md., and, finally, San Francisco.

There will be many lessons drawn from this late disaster, as to the type of building which should be constructed to endure both fire and earthquake; as to some method of absolutely insuring, a supply of water for fighting fire, which will not be put out of business by either an earthquake or a conflagration, but as an illustration of our modern shock-taker it stands supreme.

Whatever we may have learned from the Chicago and Boston fires of thirty-five years ago, we do not seem to have solved the conflagration hazard, as our experience in the past five years, enumerated above, will show. The conflagration represents the loss by fire which is over and above the normal annual loss. This normal annual loss is about $125,000,000 to $150,000,000, while the conflagration loss from the fires enumerated above, in five years, is, on conservative estimate, $250,000,000; or, in other words, in a period of five years we have burned the equivalent of seven normal years, or nearly 50% increase.

Now, it must be evident to all that, however generous the sympathies of the community may be, or of the nation, for that matter, or however rich they may be, it would be impossible, without previous preparation to restore to the community anything like the wealth or needed capital which is called for by this sudden loss. Hence, we are inclined to regard fire insurance as the shock-taker which, receiving this sudden blow, so equalizes it that the damage is limited to the smallest possible amount.

Now, it has always been the province of fire insurance, since its modern development, that is, since the Great Fire of London, to bear to the community or individual this position of a shock-taker, but it is interesting to note that like all other human inventions, it is, with experience, improving and doing the work which it is called upon to do, better than it ever has done before.

In the Chicago fire, for instance, the losses incurred by insurance companies amounted to $91,000,000, of which only about $50,000,000 was paid, leaving something over $40,000,000 which sixty-eight bankrupt companies were unable to pay.

In the Baltimore conflagration, involving nearly half of this amount, the losses from the bankrupt companies were exceedingly slight; while as yet the San Francisco disaster has not brought to the fore and probably will not, any company that will not pay in full. In the thirty years we have improved our "shock-taker," and it now receives the most stupendous blows without a quiver.

We alluded above to the many plans which will be put forward as to the type of building which should be constructed and as to the water supply, and these will also receive their due consideration. For the present it seems sufficient to point out the great service which fire insurance performs for the community. It is safe to affirm that all the gifts of the nation—States, organizations and individuals combined—will probably not amount to more than one-fourth of the sum which the insurance companies, in the normal fulfillment of their contracts, will pay at San Francisco. So the "shock-taker" appears to be performing its work.

E. R. HARDY.

Earthquakes and Steel Construction.

Too much stress can hardly be laid on the importance of the work now being undertaken by certain building contractors who are hurrying experts to San Francisco to ascertain the effect of the earthquakes on different kinds of buildings. The lessons derived by the experts' inspection should prove of great use in determining the comparative resistive strength of various styles of construction and in insuring the future greater safety of cities. Not improbably the investigation will bring to light elements of structural weakness or strength which will lead to better protection against other destructive forces than those of seismic shock.

From the advance reports it is learned that the experts' observation tends to confirm the superior value of steel skeleton construction as the strongest and most secure. The modern fireproof skyscraper, composed of a framework of steel, with a tegument of brick or tile, may warp, bend and buckle under such a furious heat as that to which the San Francisco buildings were subjected, but it is peculiarly adapted to withstand strain. Erected on a firm basis of concrete, to which it is securely anchored, the entire structure has an elasticity and "give" impossible in rigid masonry, and this quality, to judge from present information, prevented the collapse of some of San Francisco's loftiest structures. Many of these succumbed to fire and the outer tegument of others was ripped off by shock, but the main body of the buildings stood the strain where more massive edifices of stone were wrecked.

It is confidently expected that a large share of the work of planning and rebuilding San Francisco will be ordered from New York architects, engineers and contractors. One prominent architect, however, said: "It is certain that New York will have a large part in any rebuilding to be done in San Francisco. Personally, however, I seriously doubt if a high building ever again will be put up in San Francisco. The fear of a repetition of the present horror will deter men from investing their money in property in a city that is apt to be shaken to pieces at any moment. I do not intend to send anybody to San Francisco."

THE BURNHAM PLAN FOR NEW YORK CITY.

The boulevard system of Paris is to be taken as a general model. A great encircling boulevard, giving access to all centres of the city without the necessity of passing through the congested districts, is the main feature of the plan. San Francisco is built on a peninsula, with water on three sides. It is planned to make the engirdling boulevard a broad, dignified and continuous driveway, skirting the water's edge. Within this ring it is planned to have a number of smaller concentric rings, separated by boulevards. The smallest of these rings, inclosing the civic centre—that part of the city which plays the most important part in civic life—is located at or near the geographical centre. The shape of the rings necessarily must be so made as to conform to the shape of the city. From the inner circuit boulevard diagonal arteries are to be run to every section of the city and to the surrounding country. They are to traverse in succession the diminishing circuit boulevards and finally reach the centre or group of centres, thus forming continuous streets reaching from one side of the city to the other.

In a city as large as San Francisco no one central place will be adequate for the grouping of all the public buildings. Therefore it will be necessary to locate subcentres at intersections of the radial streets with the concentric boulevards. At each of these intersections there will be a public "place." In brief, it is proposed to make San Francisco the ideal city.

Concrete at San Francisco.

The day of the earthquake disaster at San Francisco Mr. Frank B. Gilbreth, the New York contractor, notified his representative, James L. MacLaughlin, who was superintending some of the extensive building operations which Mr. Gilbreth has under way at Seattle, to proceed immediately to the stricken city. The following day six engineers were sent west from Mr. Gilbreth's office in New York. Reports received from these engineers indicate that reinforced concrete will play an important part in the rebuilding of San Francisco.

"Immediately following the earthquake," states Mr. Gilbreth, "many of the building operations on the Pacific coast were suspended until the effect of the earthquake and fire on the structures in the destroyed areas could be determined. The results indicate that the new San Francisco will be to a large extent a city of concrete. Seattle has already taken warning and the Columbia Improvement Company, for whom we are building a power plant valued at $500,000, has changed its plans and will put up instead of a steel and brick structure a monolithic plant of reinforced concrete.

"Such a structure will be absolutely fireproof and observations in the destroyed areas in San Francisco, Oakland and Berkeley would show that such a structure will withstand any ordinary earthquake shock. This type of construction consists of building an entire structure—walls, supporting columns and floors—of solid concrete reinforced with steel bars and wire mesh to provide additional strength.

"It is absurd to claim that any building can withstand the strain of a heavy shock. It will be noted, however, that the larger part of the destruction of San Francisco was by fire. Many of the monolithic concrete structures were apparently uninjured by the shock itself."

Mr. Gilbreth in addition to being one of the largest contractors in the country, has had extensive experience in concrete work. He is the president of the Corrugated Concrete Pile Company, of the United Concrete Machinery Co., and the Underwriters Engineering and Construction Co.

The Building Trades.

BOARD OF GOVERNORS ON THE LABOR OUTLOOK.

At the annual meeting of the Building Trades Employers' Association, Mr. James R. Strong, chairman of the board of governors, gave a succinct account of the workings of the arbitration plan, in the course of which he gave the assurance that the journeymen are for the most part satisfied with present conditions. More fully, Mr. Strong remarked, as reported in the B. T. A. Bulletin, that—

"Labor troubles during the past year have been comparatively few, the bulk of the trouble having been handled by the Executive Committee of the General Arbitration Board. I have been a member of that committee up to its last meeting and am familiar with what the committee has been doing. I think that we cannot overestimate the value of the work of that committee. It sifts out and adjusts those small complaints which in the past have been the cause of much annoyance and interruption of work.

"The committee consists of six employers and six union men. It meets regularly once a week, and very often a second meeting is necessary so that the meetings during the whole period have averaged one and one-half meetings a week. You cannot realize the volume of work that is considered by the committee, but it is a fact that a case before the committee rarely occupies more than an hour, and as a rule the committee's sessions last from 7.30 to 12 o'clock.

"This committee has been the means of controlling all the labor troubles that have come up with the exception of three. You are familiar with the upholsterer's trouble, which case was finally straightened out by the Board. You are familiar with the sheet metal workers' trouble, which was straightened out in accordance with the rules of the Executive Committee. You are more familiar with the recent and existing trouble in the iron trade. I say existing trouble, but as it exists to-day it is not great. It is the one case that still stands out in opposition to the rules of the General Arbitration Board, and for that reason you are aware that the condition of the open shop exists in that trade. The work of the employers of the three associations involved is going on with little if any interruption. In other words, when arbitration failed to arbitrate the employers stepped in and have secured a condition of business that is satisfactory. It must be seen by the other members of the Building Trades Employers' Association that one of the reasons why this condition exists is due to the fact that in the iron trade they have had for years practically open shop so that the other trades were more or less accustomed to it. There has been a spectacle going on in building operations—non-union men being put to work in the iron trade and all the other trades in the building working without any attempt to stop in sympathy with the striking housesmiths.

"There have been various bluffs put up and meetings called, it is true, but the matter has simmered down to this: The other trades prefer to continue at work under the arbitration plan and not lose their time than to going out in sympathy with the Housesmiths' Union, which they know to be in the wrong.

"It does not follow that because this can be done in the iron trade and is the proper thing for that particular trade that we should attempt to carry it out in any other line, and I think a word on that line is in order. This association is committed to arbitration and to deal with unions. This policy has worked out perfectly well under the workings of the arbitration plan. This city has had less labor trouble in the past ten months or the past year and a half than any time during its history. The men who are working under the arbitration plan are satisfied with conditions and they have proved their satisfaction by standing with the arbitration plan rather than with the Housesmiths' Union."

Fifty Years in Real Estate.

REAL ESTATE is a line of business favorable to the production of grand old men. It is a business which one may follow actively to the end of his days, for it is one that no one can outgrow. Mr. J. Romaine Brown is this week beginning his fifty-first year as an agent and broker. His features are familiar to every one that has had to do with real estate in the middle section of the city, and his name is a synonym with New York's realty.

For half a century Mr. Brown, who was born in the old Ninth Ward, has made a study and a specialty of New York city property. He is known as the father of real estate brokers, and the history of this man's life in the world of realty reads like a romance. It would require many pages to recount even a fraction of the vast number of transactions in which he has had a hand and the phenomenal rise, pyrotechnic at times, in real property during all these years. During this period Mr. Brown has been located within the district bounded by 23d and 34th streets—his spacious offices now are No. 53 West 33d street—and he has seen the most remarkable changes in Manhattan property.

J. ROMAINE BROWN.

Mr. Brown has witnessed marvellous changes, from the erstwhile farm lands and pastures along the line of upper Broadway, where transactions then were by acres, at a few hundreds or thousands of dollars, to the gigantic deals of the present day, when a few feet of ground bring fabulous prices and are covered with architectural monuments of the twentieth century. The money value of the properties that were bought and sold by Mr. Brown during his career as broker could be reckoned by the hundreds of millions—thousands of millions at the present day.

When Mr. Brown, whose grandfather ran the old stage line of Kipp & Brown early in the last century, finished his education in a Yonkers boarding school he passed his first nine years in the hardware business. But this was too slow for him, and he bought the old 34th street line of stages in 1854. Two years later he traded the stage line for real estate, and since then Mr. Brown has bought and sold all kinds of real property and managed vast estates.

For seven years, from 1856, he occupied offices at 1238 Broadway, near 30th street, when Peter A. Lehman was associated with him. Afterward he moved to 1280 Broadway, corner of 33d street, and it was here he rented his rear office to leading Republican managers, such as Arthur, Conkling, Murphy and Stewart, who were wont to meet and discuss the affairs of state. It was in these offices, too, that some of the greatest deals in the real estate world were consummated, and men of thousands, who are millionaires now, came day after day to consult with Mr. Brown and seek his advice about parcels of land that to-day are worth from ten to fifty times as much. He had such customers as Richard F. Carman, Mme. Jumel, Randolph Brant, Richard Crocheron, Ely White, Herman T. Livingston, John Fox, of steamship fame, David H. McAlpin, Loyal L. Smith, Robert E. Livingston, Peter W. Sheaffer, John Henry Livingston, and many other prominent citizens.

There are few pieces of property between 23d and 40th streets which have not, one time or another, been bought or sold through Mr. Brown—many of them half a dozen times or more—and the stupendous rise in values from first to last makes even that veteran broker gasp with surprise. Scores of parcels which he originally sold for $5,000 or $10,000 are now held at $100,000 to $500,000 or more. He bought for Jay Gould the Grand Opera House site; the site of the Grand Hotel he sold six times. He also bought and sold large plots for Columbia College, for the Knapp and Malley estates, besides hundreds and thousands of lots or acre property in the suburbs of New York. He sold, it will be remembered, the French's Hotel property, the site of the present World Building; the southeast corner of Broadway and 44th street, the block front between 44th and 45th streets for the Hammerstein Theatre, the land for the Morris Park race track.

His recent sales include the Audubon, at the northeast corner of Broadway and 38th street, the Elizabeth apartment house at the southwest corner of Broadway and 105th street; Lenox Court, 114-116 East 71st street; the Beaulaire, at the northwest corner of Broadway and 109th street, and the block front on Riverside Drive, between 110th and 111th streets, on which the Johnson-Kahn Co. will erect a million dollar hotel. Mr. Brown has for years had as a partner A. P. W. Kinnan.

Mr. Brown, who resides at No. 74 Convent av, has a summer home on the Shinnecock Hills. He is fond of driving, and has some fine horses, but declares he must be up-to-date and have an automobile. He was a member and director of the old Real Estate Exchange, is a director in the New Amsterdam and Washington Heights banks, the New York Plate Glass Insurance Company, is a member of the Union League, and belongs to the Shinnecock Golf and other clubs. Mr. Kinnan is vice-president of the Union Dime Savings and a director in the Mutual bank, and the Manhattan Life Insurance Company.

Street Opening Matter.

Since the passage of the Dowling bill amending that portion of the New York Charter dealing with the opening of streets, parks, etc., in this city a new light has been received by many large real estate interests, and letters have been sent to the Governor asking for the rejection of the bill. Mr. John C. Shaw, representing the Bennett estate; Henry Morgenthau, Charles H. Patrick, of the East Bay Land and Improvement Co., the title companies, and others, are reported to be interceding with the Governor to veto the bill. Mr. Shaw in a statement to the Record and Guide, says:

"It seems to me that the proposed amendments to the legislation as embodied in this bill are detrimental to the interests of property owners. There is no new feature about this bill which can be justly said to protect the interests of property owners whose land is taken in condemnation proceedings. It seems to me to be very unwise to permit the Corporation Counsel with the sanction of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment to fix the prices which the city is to pay for property. The matter would be of no consequence so far as property owners whose property is taken are concerned, as they have the right to accept or reject the so-called offer where the city pays for the property out of the public treasury."

Mr. Patrick says: "I consider the attempt to induce the smaller property owners to sell their land to the city upon the values fixed by the Corporation Counsel as wholly unjust. Every one acquainted with condemnation proceedings in this city is well aware of the fact that where opposition is made to the values fixed by the Corporation Counsel almost invariably a higher price is obtained than that stated by the city's experts. The larger owners, estates, etc., rarely, if ever, avail themselves of the right of private agreement, because experience has demonstrated that the city agrees only upon the valuations furnished by its own experts, which are the lowest possible, and the fact that a higher valuation is almost invariably obtained when opposition is made proves conclusively what injustice would have been done to the property owners had they been induced to accept the valuations of the city's experts.

"The smaller owners in the outlying districts, who are not aware of these facts, under the proposed order of things might be induced to accept the awards stated in the preliminary report of the Corporation Counsel; and, although it might be for the benefit of the city that they should accept these lesser amounts, it would be at their own expense, for they would do better if they went into the proceeding and proved value of their property for themselves.

EVENING POST'S NEW BUILDING.

The picture herewith shows the Vesey st front of the new "Evening Post Building," to be erected on a plot, 74x101 ft., at Nos. 20-22-24 Vesey st, from the plans of Architect Robert D. Kohn, 170 5th av. The structure will be thirteen stories in height, and beside its printing department will contain offices and lofts. Demolishing was commenced on Tuesday of this week by J. Volk, of No. 56 Beaver st. Marc Eidlitz & Son, of No. 489 5th av, is general contractor, and the Passaic Steel Co., of Paterson, N. J., has the structural steel work.

"The portion of the proposed bill which allows the assessment commissioner fifty cents a lot in addition to his fees as a commissioner of estimate, is equally undesirable on account of the great opportunities for graft. Some of the recent assessment areas in the city have been very large, notably the Grand Boulevard and Concourse proceeding in the Bronx, where the assessment area included all of the 23d and 24th Wards, and the 149th st, proceeding, where the assessment area included all of the 23d Ward. In cases like these, if the assessment commissioner collected fifty cents per lot for every lot assessed, his fees would amount to a respectable sized fortune and would bring the fees of the whole commission above anything that the present system can show.

"It is claimed that the bill is introduced in the interest of economy, but there is no economy in this provision. A great deal has been said in favor of the bill upon the ground that its provisions might be more beneficial to the City of New York than those of the act now existing, but the protection of the property owners should be considered. I do not think that it will do to place the city in a better position, assuming that the amendments will do this at the expense of the property owners—and of the smaller owners and those less able to stand additional burdens at that."

Building Code Amendment.

Paragraph 1, of Sec. 105, of the ordinance known as the Building Code, was amended at this week's meeting of the Board of Aldermen, so as to read as follows:

Every building hereafter erected or altered, to be used as a hotel, lodging house, school, theatre, jail, police station, hospital, asylum, institution for the care or treatment of persons, the height of which exceeds (thirty-five feet) thirty-six feet six inches, excepting all buildings for which specifications and plans have been heretofore submitted to and approved by the Department of buildings, and every other building the height of which exceeds seventy-five feet, except as herein otherwise provided, shall be built fireproof; that is to say, etc.

(Note.—Old matter in parenthesis to be omitted; new matter in italics.)

The amendment, when approved by the Mayor, will relieve a large number of three-story buildings, such as have been converted into hotels or lodging houses from the fireproof requirement. Many such buildings come just within the present law, and the new State Excise law commands that they shall conform to the local Building Code, and in the opinion of the Board of Aldermen the enforcement of the State law has been working a hardship.

Alderman Guffenhagen, chairman of the Committee on Buildings, is expected to call his committee together very shortly to consider the recommendations which have been received from various civic, trade and professional bodies in regard to the composition of the Advisory Committee, in the matter of revising the Building Code.

The next regular monthly meeting of the West End Association will be held at Hotel St. Andrew, Broadway and 72d st, northwest corner, on Monday evening, May 7, 1906, at 8.30 o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

Granite as a Building Material.

Brothers and Hurricane Island Granite Co.'s, of 207 Broadway, is wholly used, or partly employed, is the Chemical Bank, corner of Broadway and Chambers st. The arch on the Chambers st side is stated to be the largest of the kind ever attempted in New York. It has a clear span of 58 ft, and is unique in design. It is said to resemble an ancient Roman arch in some of the ruins of baths in Rome. The academic group of buildings of the Naval Academy at Annapolis is also built of granite from the same firm's quarries, at Waterford, Conn., and are approaching completion.

John Leopold & Co., granite contractors, 18 Broadway, have just equipped a quarry at Vinal Haven, Me. It has four derricks, and will turn out dimension stone and stone in the rough for monumental yards. The firm has enormous orders on hand for paving blocks, three millions having to be sent to Philadelphia. A million of paving blocks have also been contracted for by the city government of New York for New York and Brooklyn. Messrs. Leopold & Co. have a full force at work at all their quarries.

The West Street Building, at the corner of West and Cedar sts., an edifice of 23 stories, is being partly constructed of Fox Island granite from the quarries of the John Peirce Co. The first four stories will be constructed wholly of this material. The granite used in the new New York Custom House and the Hall of Records is also supplied by this firm, which has likewise secured the general contract for the new Post Office building at the Grand Central station. Stoney Creek granite is used for the basement and the rest of the superstructure to be of limestone. For the Cleveland, O., Federal building, Mount Waldo granite has been furnished by the John Peirce firm.

Summing up the situation a notable authority in the granite interests says: "Prices are about the same as they have always been, although granite costs more. Stone cutters have advanced their rates so that granite cannot compete with other materials. It would be used more generally if people could afford it. At present it shows a tendency to advance in value."

Certified surveyors in England now term themselves "ordained" surveyors. A hint to the plumbers, etc. Heretofore the word "ordained" has been restricted to ministers. In due time, dear brethren, we shall be introduced to the Society of "Ordained" Life Insurance Solicitors and the Sacred Order of Ordained Brick and Mortar Handlers.

Best Villas in Most Demand.

FLATBUSH is very fascinating at this spring season to those who have been shut in the city all winter, and though the first of the month is past, inquiries from prospective buyers and renters continue numerous. The professional builders of the section continue in the same proportion as formerly to erect the pretty cottages which caught the public fancy years ago, so that the middle section of old Flatbush, as divided by the Coney Island road—which is the backbone of the section—is pretty well occupied, except for the choice estates on Flatbush av and a section that remains vacant immediately south of the Parade Ground.

Otherwise the central zone of Flatbush is thickly built from the Ocean parkway on the west to Nostrand av on the east, from the Park to Fiske terrace. Beyond these boundaries, on all sides except the park side, building construction is being carried vigorously, under much the same general scheme of architecture that has prevailed hitherto. Occasionally one comes upon a composition showing somebody's creditable intention to have something "different." The one great fault with Flatbush is that the dwellings were mostly built for the market and not for particular owners.

After that is said as a concession to Architecture, there is much to admire in Flatbush, especially the care with which its trees are guarded, and the evident general appreciation for Nature's ornamentation. It is the foliage, like the luxuriant hair of the beautiful princess, that first attracts the wayfarer; and probably when the reasons for the success of Flatbush are all analyzed, and due acknowledgments are paid to those delightful piazzas, those lovely hardwood floors, cozy corners and foyer halls, not forgetting the cute little kitchens with everything handy, and the other familiar architectural beauties and physical comforts, it will be voted, we think, that Flatbush is loveliest where Nature's charms are most cultivated, and that it is the lawns, the trees and the garden flowers that have contributed most to the success of the region as a field of real estate speculation.

Values at the present time are clearly higher than a year ago for the newly-built as well as for old constructions. Mr. Medbury, of the Star and Crescent Co., 801 Flatbush av, says his firm have sold more fine 1-family houses since January 1 than any other class. He added:

"Homes with large grounds and fine surroundings have been in good demand, and are yet much wanted. Houses worth from ten to twenty thousand dollars that are in fine locations are in great demand. The finer they are, the quicker we can sell them."

"The demand from Manhattan and the old and better sections of Brooklyn seems unlimited. To this class of buyers, when we show them what they want, there seems no question about the present increased prices. In fact, it is a frequent occurrence to have buyers say our prices are much under other suburbs. Those who have looked around in other sections before coming out here are the quickest and easiest sold. The better class of 2-family houses is in strong demand. There is also a demand for choice unimproved property. In fact, every condition looks very healthy in Flatbush and points to this beautiful suburb being what nature planned for it, the most beautiful and convenient suburb in Greater New York."

Sued for Commission.

A CASE fraught with considerable interest to owners of property, those particularly having dealings with real estate brokers, was decided upon by Justice Sanders in the Fourth Municipal Court, by rendering a judgment for the full amount sued for, namely, 500 with interest, in favor of Charles I. Fleck and Pincus B. Brown, composing the firm of Fleck & Brown, real estate brokers in this borough, against Ury Goodman, a builder.

In May, 1905, Mr. Goodman was the possessor of a certain property situated at the southeast corner of 9th street and Avenue C, Manhattan. Joseph Tea was at that time a member of the real estate firm of Fleck, Brown & Tea, and Mr. Tea intending to withdraw from the firm, was employed by Mr. Goodman to act as broker for the sale of his property. He told Goodman that he had withdrawn from the firm, and was no longer a member thereof; and Goodman gave him an authorization pursuant to the provisions of the Penal Code, authorizing him to sell his property and act as his broker. It is alleged that Tea procured a purchaser for the property and was entitled thereby to the commissions agreed upon, which was $500. Tea withdrew from the firm of Fleck, Brown & Tea after this sale had been completed, and Fleck and Brown asked him to join them in a suit against Goodman, to recover the amount of the brokerage. Goodman had refused to pay the firm, claiming that the contract was with Tea directly, that he did not recognize the firm of Fleck & Brown, did not know them, and had dealt exclusively in this connection with Tea, who was the only party to whom he would pay the money.

Thereupon Fleck & Brown, through their attorney, Abraham Oberstein, instituted a suit in the Municipal Court, Fourth District, against Goodman and also against Joseph Tea, as a co-defendant, and assigning as a reason that because he would not join in as a co-plaintiff, they made him a co-defendant, as the law makes this necessary where a party who should be brought in as a co-plaintiff and refuses to join in, that he should be brought in as a co-defendant instead of a co-plaintiff.

In the trial of the action Goodman appeared by his attorneys, Arnstein & Levy, who contended that the authorization having read to Joseph Tea, the firm of Fleck & Brown could not maintain any action thereon. That this authorization was to an individual and did not authorize any sale by the firm, particularly when such firm was unknown to the seller; and therefore they contended that the authorization was to Joseph Tea directly, and that the firm of Fleck & Brown as a consequence could not maintain any action thereon. Mr. Oberstein stated, in support of his contention, the recent case just decided by the Appellate Term, of Cox et al vs. Hawke, wherein the Presiding Justice, writing the opinion of the Court, said:

"The written authority given to one member of the firm was sufficient to take the case out of the operation of the statute and permit a co-partnership of which he is a member to sue for the commission. An authorization to one member of the firm, especially when he is known to be such, is quite sufficient to justify him in offering the property acting as a member of the firm, and is therefore quite sufficient to support an action by the firm for their commissions. It is equivalent to an authorization to the firm."

This decision, as already stated, is of primary importance to owners who, in giving an authorization to an individual member of a firm of brokers, think they are dealing directly with the party to whom the authorization is given.

Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Co. to Erect Plant in the East.

The interesting announcement is made that the Standard Sanitary Mfg. Co., Pittsburgh, Pa., manufacturers of the celebrated "Standard" porcelain enameled baths and sanitary goods, will this year erect a large modern plant for the manufacture of these goods in the East. Land has been acquired at East Camden, N. J., directly across the Delaware River from Philadelphia, and a factory, designed upon the same elaborate scale as the great plants at Allegheny, Pa.; New Brighton, Pa., and Louisville, Ky., will be constructed. The new works will be completed this year, and will employ in the various departments about 1,000 hands. The cost of the plant will be approximately $500,000.

A full line will be manufactured, including the various types of bath tubs in all sizes, lavatories in the different designs and sizes, sinks and laundry trays, closet bowls and tanks, urinals, drinking fountains, washsinks and other articles used in plumbing and sanitary installation.

The erection of a factory in the East was found to be an imperative necessity, owing to the enormous trade which had been developed by the company in the large cities of New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore and other centres. The company's export trade also has grown to such huge dimensions that it was found by locating a plant near the seaboard great savings could be effected in freight as well as raw materials, and deliveries could be made more promptly and satisfactorily.

This company was the first concern in the world to successfully attempt the enameling of cast-iron sanitary articles with a powder (known as the "dry process") instead of applying the preparation in liquid form by the "wet process." Indeed, the Standard Sanitary Mfg. Co. was the first concern in America to manufacture enameled bath and sanitary goods successfully at all, and prior to the advent of this company in the field, the public had no faith in the porcelain enameled bath or washstand. Other manufacturers had attempted to produce these goods, but the enamels would crack and craze, the casting was rough and clumsy in appearance and invariably any enameled goods sent out would be returned. Along in the '70's the Standard Sanitary Mfg. Co. began a series of experiments to learn the secret of the manufacture of perfect porcelain enameled ware, and by persistent efforts succeeded in devising means and methods of manufacture that had never been equaled.

Los Angeles All to the Good.

While alarming reports were coming in that Los Angeles, as well as San Francisco, had been wrecked by earthquakes, Sweet, Orr & Co., of 817 Broadway, the well-known garment manufacturers, telegraphed to the firm of Port Bros. in that city for new instructions regarding the shipping of some goods that had been ordered. The reply they received was characteristic of the indomitable spirit that has characterized the coast in this present extreme crisis: "Add to our previous order and ship. No damage from earthquake, no tidal wave, or any old thing. We are normal in every particular. All reports to the contrary are false."

Encroachments Upon the Water-Front, Riverside Park.

The bill, known as Senator Page's, providing for the extension of Riverside Drive and the construction of an athletic field and stadium by the trustees of Columbia University upon land now under water, was approved by the Mayor, and signed by the Governor on April 24. This measure contemplates the reclaiming of the sunken land between 116th and 120th streets, west of Riverside Park, with entrances from the Park and, by means of a water gate, from the river. On this ground the University proposes to erect a stadium to seat many thousand persons, with athletic fields on either side and pavilions over the grand stands. The Metropolitan Parks Association is willing that Columbia should have this provided that it remain under the control of the Park Department of the city, so that the Department, and not the University, should decide as to who should be benefited by it.

Against another measure, similar in character, now before the Senate, the Parks Association has also protested. This bill authorizes the city to fill in and improve "all or any part of the land under water and upland, fronting upon Riverside Park, up to the southerly limit of the Columbia reservation." The Board of Estimate and Apportionment is authorized to enter into an agreement with the Motor Boat Club of America by virtue of which, "in case the Motor Boat Club of America shall agree to assume the expense of constructing the addition, then the said agreement or agreements may provide that any portion or portions of Riverside Park lying west of the Hudson River Railroad may be inclosed or set apart as club grounds, for piers, boat landings and clubhouse for use and occupation by the said corporation and such persons as the said corporation may from time to time admit thereto."

It is maintained on behalf of the public that a harbor and landing place for small boats on the river-front should certainly be provided by the city, but should by all means be for public use within the control of the Park Department, and not for the exclusive use of any one club or private corporation. Moreover, the Department of Docks and Parks, in co-ordination, are perfecting a plan for the development of the full extent of the water-front of Riverside Park, and will have need for all this land. No doubt there will be in these plans ample arrangements for water sports, landings for power boats, beaches for hauling boats out and harbors for sailboats. The plans should be hurried, for the public is getting impatient at being cut off from the water so long.

A Merited Promotion.

A. Wilfred Tuthill, until recently the Brooklyn salesman for the Sayre & Fisher Co., one of the largest brick concerns in the country, has been appointed assistant manager of their New York office, at No. 207 Broadway. He succeeds Arthur C. Wood at the head of the red brick department. Mr. Tuthill has been in the employ of Sayre & Fisher Co. for the past three or four years and he has won his spurs by conscientious and earnest effort, and his advancement is but a demonstration of what a country boy with determination to succeed can do. We are confident that Mr. Tuthill's large circle of acquaintances and friends congratulate him and wish him all further success.

Messrs. Parish, Fisher & Co. will sell at auction at the same place on May 29, the Dickinson estate, consisting of 369 lots situated on Jerome avenue, Mosholu Parkway and vicinity. Title to both these properties will be insured free to purchasers. The location is especially fine. Maps and full particulars of all these lots may be obtained from the auctioneers at 149 Broadway. For further particulars, see adv.

The auction sale of the property on the Eastern Boulevard, formerly owned by the Sisters of St. Vincent de Paul, will be conducted by Auctioneer John L. Parish in the Real Estate Salesroom, 14 and 16 Vesey st, on Tuesday, May 22. The property—opposite the Westchester Country Club, near Pelham Bay Park and within a few minutes' walk of the water front—is, so far as its surrounding is concerned, in one of the most attractive parts of the Bronx. The land is level, slightly above grade, and with the work of development now being carried forward by the owners will be practically ready for building. Several hundred laborers are now engaged in opening and grading 6,000 ft. of streets and constructing sewers in many of them. To what extent property in this section is commanding attention was shown in the recent sale of the St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum tract.

REAL ESTATE NOTES

Lowenfeld & Prager announce that their new list of property for sale is now ready and brokers can have the same by applying to their office at 149 Broadway.

The Reserve Realty Co. has removed from 156 Broadway to larger offices at 95 and 97 Liberty st, and are in the market to purchase improved and unimproved properties on Manhattan Island.

Herman Walker, the Jersey broker, was one of a syndicate which bought a tract of land in Long Island two months ago for $1,000 an acre. They sold it for $14,000; it was resold for $19,000 and a few days ago another investor bought it for $25,000 an acre.

Arthur A. Swany having retired from the Simpson-Swany Co., 1 Madison av, will be succeeded by Mr. Henry Merritt, who has had many years' experience in the general real estate business. The company will hereafter be known as the Simpson-Merritt Co., and will act as agents, appraisers, managers of estates and brokers, and will make a specialty of first and second mortgages and fire insurance.

Of the numerous companies which have recently been organized for operating in Manhattan real estate, the Fort Amsterdam Realty Co., of 128 Broadway, is among the most progressive and active. Its paid-up capital is only $100,000, but it is reported to have exceptionally responsible financial support. It has been operating mainly in downtown and upper west side properties, and its recent purchase of a downtown parcel, which had not changed owners for upwards of eighty-four years, attracted considerable notice. The company's officers are Lewis M. Scheuer, president; Benjamin F. Kraft, treasurer; M. G. Holstein, secretary and counsel, and E. B. H. Myers is its manager.

This present month the Vesey street auction mart is scheduled for unusual activity. On Tuesday, May 8, Joseph P. Day will dispose of a great many interesting items, including 24 lots on Riverside Drive. He also has important engagements for the 16th, 22d and 23d. Mr. John L. Parish will sell on Tuesday the 29th, the Dickinson estate, consisting of 369 lots on Jerome av, Mosholu Parkway, etc. John S. Mapes will sell thirty lots on May 8th. Bryan L. Kennelly will sell 174 lots from the Drake estate on Broadway, between 214th and 218th sts; on Wednesday, May 9th, 41 lots at Lowerre; on the 16th inst. he will sell some West 34th st parcels, and he has engagements for other dates.

The Stewart-Hilton estate has been very successful lately in disposing of its property. For many years—ever since A. T. Stewart died, in fact—there has stood idle at Glenham, in Dutchess county, at the foot of Mount Beacon, a great carpet factory, which was owned by the Stewart-Hilton estate, and where most of the carpets once sold in the wholesale store at Chambers st and Broadway were manufactured. It was once a fine plant, and first and last it may have cost as much as common report says, for the property comprises twenty-four acres, twenty tenement houses and nearly 300,000 square feet of factory floor space. Following within a week the report of the sale of the Stewart building at Broadway and Chambers (through the real estate agency of Leopold Weil, for $4,500,000), the announcement is now made that these old works at Glenham have been sold to the Chicago Piano Company for a price unnamed. As the buildings have been kept in fairly good repair, the principal change will be in equipment, but as the property has been on the market a long time, the selling price is supposed to be exceedingly low.

Dissolution.

Crawford, Denison & Moynahan, real estate brokers and agents, of 141 Broadway, have dissolved partnership under a firm agreement terminating May 1. Mr. Denison will retain the present offices on the sixth floor, Mr. F. J. Moynahan may be found at Room 622 on the same floor, and Mr. William H. Crawford has associated himself with Bryan L. Kennelly, the auctioneer, at 7 Pine street.

The Chances for New Subways.

At this week's meeting of the Rapid Transit Commission, Comptroller Metz struck the keynote of subway affairs as they stand at present when he said that he did not believe there was any use in talking of building nineteen different subways, adding:

"It would be better to start one East Side subway, one river tunnel, and perhaps the Coney Island subway, this year, than do a lot of talking about this matter."

—There has been a great deal of moving out of Bronx and Harlem flats this Spring, some say more than ever before; and, more noteworthy still, the vacancies are not being filled as readily as for several seasons past. A great many new cottages on Long Island and in the Jerseys, are receiving their owners' families for the first time this spring. Hundreds of 2-family brick and multi-family flat houses have been built in South Brooklyn, and hundreds of frame dwellings in the Flatbush section, not counting as many more comfortable though inexpensive cottage homes in Queens and Nassau, and all the country round. The developing operations and movements now going on in the suburbs are unprecedented, and the probabilities are that the speed record will be exceeded each successive year for a number to come, more particularly along the projected and new lines of travel. The effects on Manhattan of this movement now setting in have been discussed in anticipatory papers for years, and the conclusion has always been that whatever vacancies in old New York may be caused by overflow movements they can be only temporary.

Growth of Reinforced Concrete Construction.

Concrete construction has come into favor in consequence of the high cost of brickwork, and this being a cheaper method of obtaining an equally good construction in many cases and in other cases a reasonable substitute. When the concrete is reinforced with steel rods, the combination lends itself readily to architectural design. It is a material the elements of which are quickly obtainable by the builder, and construction can be commenced immediately on signing contract. It is also fireproof and only slightly more expensive than mill construction. So far in Manhattan reinforced concrete has been mainly used for floor construction, but its use is gradually expanding.

Following is a list of some reinforced concrete building in Manhattan, built or building:

Cody the 3-sty dwelling 357 West 28th st, formerly occupied by Fire Chief Croker; to Sisson & Tommins the vacant plot 50x75 on the east side of 11th av, north of 22d st; for the Canton Steel Ceiling Co. a loft in 523 West 22d st; for Annie E. Burrows, store and basement 13 Little West 12th st; to Great Bear Spring Co., store 350 West 25th st; for a Mr. Mulqueen the 5-sty tenement and store 443 West 28th st for a term of years.

The Lloyd Realty, a subsidiary concern, of the City Investing Company, leased to the United Cigar Stores Company the old Benedict Building, at the southwest corner of Broadway and Cortlandt st, for a term of twenty years. The lesser recently bought the long lease that Smith, Gray & Co. had on the property and obtained another lease besides to date from the expiration of the Smith, Gray & Co. lease, which has sixteen years yet to run. The estate of John H. Pell owns the property and his widow has a life interest in it. In order to protect the light and air of a twenty-five story building, to be erected around the Benedict Building by the City Investing Company, was the purpose of that company in acquiring control of the old building. The interior of the latter structure will undergo alterations. For a long time the United Cigar Stores Company has tried to obtain a lease of the property. One of its rivals now occupies the immediate corner store in the building, at a high rental.

James J. Etchingham, real estate agent and broker, has removed his office to 131 Columbus av, near 66th st.

MORTGAGES

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagees. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we given is taken from the instrument as filed.

YOUR SYSTEM OF RECORDS?

BETTER USE OURS

It costs a dollar a mile to go to Chicago in a Special Train, but only a few cents a mile on the Empire State Express. The same is true of the RECORD AND GUIDE QUARTERLY. Each subscriber receives for Twenty Dollars a year a service that would cost him thousands of dollars.

A system of records is as necessary to a real estate broker as the "ticker" to a stock broker. Conceivably a man might get along without either, but he would suffer immensely both in person and estate.

By means of the RECORD AND GUIDE QUARTERLY, which occupies only a few square inches on a shelf or a desk, the real estate man is put in possession of a system of records in which he could find any particular transaction, be it conveyance, mortgage, auction sale or lease, as easily as he can find the name of one of his clients in the telephone book. It is permanent in form, ever ready and available. It does not go "out" like the office boy, or make mistakes like the stenographer.

The annual number of the RECORD AND GUIDE QUARTERLY contains ALL the legal records for the past year concerning real estate and projected buildings, arranged alphabetically and numerically, with invaluable annotations.

These are supplemented by tables of important transactions, with typical prices, covering the past quarter of a century or more, accompanied by expert comments.

FROM last week's crash in prices there has been a sharp reaction upward on the New York Stock Exchange. It may be fairly said that the sudden advance has surprised Wall Street, and has caught many shrewd operators short of the market at the lowest figures. The talent was in agreement that a protracted decline was ahead of us, that the goose that lays the golden eggs—the public—had been killed, and that it would be a long time before a bull speculation could be inaugurated. Within a week of these confident conclusions a rise of from five to twenty points—the latter in Reading—has taken place, stocks like Brooklyn Rapid Transit, Union Pacific, Amalgamated Copper, and many other of the leaders having advanced ten points each. The goose had not been killed, and never is. Only some goslings die. Such a sharp right-about-face of the market is not unusual. It may be always counted upon as the sequel of a collapse important enough to become historic. Wall Street had a like upward movement, and indeed a sustained advance, after the Northern Pacific corner panic of 1901, when the wisest believed that the theretofore bull market was over for good. Again, when the New York Stock Exchange reopened after being closed for about ten days in the panic of 1873, an advance began, to everybody's astonishment, which ended only with a bear panic—the whole street having espoused the short side. If the popular notion that the fundamentals underlying the present widespread prosperity continue sound and healthy, then it may well be that the long-looked-for rise in railroad stocks will be had this summer, following the adjournment of Congress.

SUCH a heartbreaking smash in prices as that of the late crash undoubtedly cripples and puts out of business a host of speculators. On the other hand, the advertisement of the bargains to be obtained brings in new buyers from everywhere, a percentage of whom remain to speculate. A panic in Wall Street has very much the effect of a special offering of print goods on a given day by a big house like the H. B. Claffin Company. Buyers appear from all over the country to secure some of the bargains. The entire dry-goods trade is stimulated by general purchases, and better prices than before result. Already this week several stocks have sold higher than before, and this may continue. The low-priced railroad issues seem the most promising purchases. They may be said to constitute the only form of improved real estate which can be bought for less than the prices of five to seven years ago. An easy money market is assured for the summer. The Klondike gold, amounting to twenty million dollars, will shortly begin to arrive on the Pacific coast, and will help to bring about the large return-flow of money from San Francisco that is expected. The San Francisco banks are now said to hold in cash seventy-five per cent. of their deposits. There will be no such percentage of withdrawals as this, and new and large local deposits will undoubtedly begin to be made as soon as the banks open for business. Other things being equal, the adjournment of Congress and State legislatures throughout the country should have a beneficial effect on the market. When the lawmakers are in session there is often great anxiety on the part of corporations as to hostile legislation, locally and nationally, and this anxiety is reflected in acute sensitiveness in Wall Street. With the adjournment of legislatures a fruitful source of disquietude is thus, for the time being, removed. As for the railroad rate bill, there are those who maintain that, should it become a law, the profits of the railroads will be largely increased.

ONLY a question of time it was when New York would have an all-night bank, and now it is here, and will probably become a regular institution. For many decades New York lagged behind other great cities in the conveniences of a metropolis, and there are still some things lacking, among them a cheap cab service. But, when New York awakens to its shortcomings, it institutes very thorough reforms. In New York, for instance, one can travel at any hour of the night on the surface, subway or elevated railroads. In London one cannot. The belated citizen has to fall back on cabs after midnight, for all underground railroad stations are closed at that hour. Neither can one get anything to eat in a restaurant in the mighty British metropolis after midnight, which is a distinct hardship for the tens of thousands of foreigners who make London an objective point. To enter your hotel either in London or the provinces late at night, one almost has to resort to burglar's methods. A sleepy night porter will let a guest in unwillingly. It does not seem to enter the cranium of the British inn or hotel keeper that a guest should be as free to come and go at any hour of the day or night as if in his own house. Nothing of this sort to complain of in New York. As hotels and many restaurants are open all night, and money has thus to be actively in circulation, an all-night bank became a necessity. Its aim and purpose are to consult the wishes and accommodate the convenience of the public. Personal necessities and conveniences call for banking facilities as urgently in other hours of the day or night as the heretofore rigidly conventional hours of between ten and three. As the Night and Day Bank very properly says: "Hours and requirements of business have been extended, household and individual needs for money movement have multiplied regardless of clock time, yet the hours of banking have remained the same."

MR. FRANK VANDERLIP'S recent address on the credit of New York City should be printed in pamphlet form and circulated by the Finance Department of this city. Many of the newspapers have been arguing that the city must stop its policy of liberal expenditures for improvements, because of the increasingly high percentage at which its obligations are being sold; but any curtailment of these improvements for such a reason would in the long run cost the city a much larger sum than the additional millions which it will be obliged to pay in interest. The policy of liberal improvements for public purposes must be continued, because it is essential to the economic growth of the city; but these improvements should be paid for, as Mr. Vanderlip suggests, by bonds which have only a few years to run. That is the course which railway companies pursue when they cannot sell to advantage comparatively permanent obligations, and New York City should pursue a similar policy. There can be no doubt that in the course of time the city will again be able to borrow on much better terms. Practically ever since 1901 money has been so scarce that high-grade securities bearing a low rate of interest have been sold at a disadvantage. There was, of course, a period of cheap money in 1903-4, but it did not last long enough really to affect the situation. During all this era of business expansion, when capital could be so advantageously employed in general trade, New York has been obliged to borrow largely, and she has undoubtedly been selling more of her stock than the immediate demand warranted. The time will soon be coming, however, when money will again be cheap, and when general business will be less active. Then New York will be able to sell her securities on much better terms, and she should so far as possible postpone the sale of permanent obligations until that time comes.

SO FAR as can be judged from the fragmentary reports which appear in the daily papers, San Francisco is taking up the problem of reconstruction in a sufficiently serious and responsible spirit. The leaders among its citizens appreciate the fact that to rebuild the city according to ordinary methods would be merely to invite calamity and to undermine the confidence in the city's future without which it cannot retain its existing position. Extraordinary precautions must be taken hereafter against the possibility of severe earthquakes, and of subsequent conflagrations; and the city must take care both that an unusually good quality of building is erected, and that in case any similar disaster should occur in the future its effect will be localized. To this end it is proposed in the first place to divide the city into sections, separated one from another by avenues and streets so broad that a fire originating in one section would not spread to another section. The standard of construction established by municipal regulation in all the business sections is to be very high. It is proposed, for instance, to localize the construction of skyscrapers, and to forbid the erection of very tall buildings on very narrow streets; and it is proposed furthermore, to insist upon some kind of frame or concrete as opposed to masonry construction. The details have not of course, been worked out, but these suggestions certainly look in the right direction. In a city exposed as San Francisco is to conflagrations, it would be very bad business to permit the erection of buildings twice or three times the width of the streets on which they are situated, or to allow tall fireproof structures to be surrounded with houses of an easily inflammable construction. When the time comes to formulate such regulations, and to make them effective, they will doubtless meet with bitter opposition on the ground that they are imposing too heavy a burden upon the economic growth of the city; but any yielding to lower and cheaper standards would be fatal. The city is obviously exposed to peculiar dangers; and it is a matter of life and death that it should be thoroughly fortified against them. As to the Burnham plan, that seems likely to be adopted in part; but the general opinion apparently is that the city cannot afford at the present crisis many of Mr. Burnham's recommendations. It is to be hoped, however, that his idea of a central plaza, with broad radial avenues leading in all the more important directions, will be carried out, because this idea is as desirable from a practical as it is from an aesthetic standpoint. The net result should be—must be—that San Francisco will be changed from one of the worst planned and constructed cities in the United States to the best; and if such is the result, we have no doubt that San Francisco will in the end be generously reimbursed for the losses which she has suffered and the heavy expenses to which she has been put.

About Investments in Manhattan Real Estate.

A REMARK recently attributed in the newspapers to a well-known and successful operator is worth more than casual consideration. This operator is said to have declared that a man investing in Manhattan real estate could be three-quarters wrong and one-quarter right, in his judgment as to where he would buy and how much he would pay, and still make money. In other words, real estate in Manhattan is such an excellent kind of property to own that a man who invests in it cannot very well help making money, provided he possesses a minimum of good judgment and common sense. The investor cannot of course throw all prudence and caution to the winds, and pay an extravagant price for any piece of property which he happens to fancy; but he is protected by the wonderful growth of the city against the consequences of ordinary mistakes. In the stock market the ill-informed and inexperienced speculator does not in the long run have very much of a chance, because it requires both shrewdness and nerve to know when to jump in and out of the market, what stocks to buy, and how long to hold them. But in Manhattan real estate a man can in some measure dispense with expert knowledge and experience. He is pretty sure to make money in case he does not violate certain good general principles, the ignoring of which is fatal, except by accident, to the success of any business transaction. The percentage is in his favor instead of being against him, and he can be three-quarters wrong and only one-quarter right without wholly destroying this favorable percentage.

We believe that everybody familiar with real estate conditions in this city will agree that the advantages of Manhattan real estate as a form of investment are not overstated in the foregoing description. There are, of course, periods in which the favorable percentage is small, and there are periods in which it is large; but it is always there. Perhaps the best proof that it is always there may be found in the enormous increase which has taken place in the speculative buying and holding of Manhattan real estate. There are literally thousands of men who are making at the present time handsome profits by speculative real estate operations in this city. Whole districts in the island have been bought up by them in the expectation of a future rise in prices. The increment in value, which during the early history of the island was so largely swallowed up by big estates, is now being distributed among this swarm of speculative operators, who are buying and selling almost as incessantly as a Wall Street speculator buys and sells blocks of stocks. They make a quicker market for Manhattan real estate than can be found anywhere else in the country, and considering their numbers and their activity, the wonder is that they do not, like the Wall Street speculators, devour each other as often as they do the fruits of business growth. But such does not seem to be the case. Numerous and active as they are, there is a sufficient fund of increased real estate value to go around, and year by year their numbers augment instead of diminish. They fully understand that the percentage is in their favor; and they buy boldly whenever they detect the opportunity and, then, if necessary hold on both patiently and firmly.

But it may be asked: What chance has an inexperienced man in purchasing real estate in a city in which so many thousands of men are continually and professionally occupied in anticipating and appropriating increases in value? Well, of course the inexperienced investor is not likely to make as much money as the experienced operator, but as we have already stated, the percentage in favor of the purchaser of good Manhattan real estate cannot be entirely appropriated by the active speculator. Such a man, just because he is an active speculator, is generally content with a small profit on any one deal. He needs to be turning his money over constantly, because he must live on his profits; and the opportunities of the less experienced investor are generally the result of this situation. The inexperienced investor can usually afford to wait longer. This is the one advantage he has over the active speculator; and if he is wise he will make his real estate purchases with a view to utilizing to the uttermost this advantage. He should be careful not to place himself in a position which would compel him to sell the property that he has bought in a short and definite space of time, because it is in relation to just such a point that he is most liable to make mistakes. He should purchase property which almost if not quite carries itself, and which consequently can be held for a long period without running up heavy deductions for interest and taxes; and after buying he should sit down patiently and wait until the current of improvement happens to come his way. Finally so far as he can afford it, he should buy centrally situated corners which are or have a good chance of becoming available for business purposes. It is in this class of property that the percentage in favor of the investor is largest, and that best repays some years of patient waiting; and we believe that this is particularly the case at the present time. There may be some doubts about the permanent investment value of tenements and apartment houses in Manhattan under the new transit conditions; but there can be no doubt at all about the future of good business property. The very causes which make some observers question whether apartment houses and tenements will continue to pay as well as they do at present—viz., the chances which people will have to obtain accessible and cheap homes in the outlying districts—these very causes will work in favor of business property, the prices of which have not already been forced as high as they are likely to go.

DETAILS of the "Chelsea improvement," so far as it affects the extension of dock facilities between Fourteenth and Twenty-third streets, on the North River, are well known. At a large expenditure the city is constructing, under the direction of the Department of Docks and Ferries, a number of modern and improved wharves for the city commerce, gradually expanding on this side of town. But the extent to which this "Chelsea improvement" will affect the territory tributary to it is not everywhere recognized. West Twenty-third street has already become the ferry terminal of five of the chief passenger lines, the Pennsylvania, Erie, Lackawanna, Lehigh and Jersey Central. All of these lines have freight terminals in the same district, and, besides, they connect with the New York Central terminals at Thirtieth street. West Thirtieth street is the future line of dock development on the West Side, and from Fourteenth to Thirtieth street the Hudson River shore line will be, according to all present indications, as important an outlet for shipping as the Hudson River shore line farther south on Manhattan. There is this difference, however, that north of Fourteenth street the shore line runs diagonally towards the west, and leaves a larger area tributary to the docks than south of Fourteenth street; and, moreover, while the streets between Canal and Fourteenth on the west side are generally irregular, those between Fourteenth and Thirtieth are all at right angles, a condition conducive to the extension of commercial facilities. The completion of the "Chelsea improvement" will not only relieve the pressure on New York docks farther down-town, but will aid in the development of a section of New York that has been backward in receiving its share of the city's growth in real estate values of late.

The Northward Movement.

Under the Tenement House Code, and the enforcement of certain of its provisions against old-law houses, an aggregate expenditure estimated at ten million dollars will be required from owners. After proceedings in the courts, the enforcement of the sections referred to was begun a year or more ago by Commissioner Crain, and regularly since batches of notifications to owners, ordering the necessary alterations, have been issuing from the department. Several thousand houses have undergone plumbing operations, and thousands more are to be so improved. No less than eight hundred dispossess notices were served last week, principally in Yorkville and the lower East Side, owing to the desire of the owners of the tenements to comply with the commands of the Tenement House Department for improved sanitation of houses. In these cases the alterations cannot be made with the houses tenanted. Under the circumstances, in evicting these eight hundred families, rooms are at a premium in the sections affected, and landlords having vacancies are obtaining high prices. But rather than pay the increased rates, families are moving northward and into the Bronx, and filling many of the new tenements. Were not the Long Island shore already overcrowded, it would get a great deal of the overflow.

These enforced changes have temporarily greatly changed the aspect of the rental market for tenements, both in the Bronx and on our East Side. They have worked together with other necessities and compelling forces to organize a formidable northward migration. In Manhattan it is manifested by a feverish pressure for rooms on the East Side and, in consequence, a sharp rise of rentals in the neighborhoods most affected. Eight hundred families constitute a decidedly strong renting demand, without adding the displacements caused by the multiplying encroachments of business and the normal changes of habitation. When the sanitary improvements are finished, there will be eight hundred apartments to fill again, and hence another state of affairs interesting to real estate observers. Still higher rents as a matter of course will be enforced for the improved properties. Under present circumstances with the search for apartments so very intense, landlords are deriving a large percentage on their investments.

In the Bronx it is admitted that the crisis on the East Side has improved the real estate outlook in that borough, as the pressure which was relaxing is being renewed. Mr. J. Clarence Davies says there is too great a disparity in values between property on Manhattan Island and property in the Bronx. "When, in the fall of 1905, millions worth of Bronx property was sold at greatly increasing values, there were those who predicted that there would soon be a decrease, but the reverse has been the case, as property sold at that time has very largely been built upon with 5 and 6-story apartment houses, which has caused a further and more stable increase in values, which in turn has spread to all points in the borough. While this has been going on, the value of Manhattan property has increased proportionately, thus still leaving as great opportunities in the Bronx as ever existed.

"Builders can buy accessible lots in the Bronx for twenty to fifty per cent. of the value of lots in Manhattan, can erect buildings thereon and obtain almost as large rentals as are obtained in the crowded district, the reason being the new and modern built apartments with a large amount of air and light to each room, and the advantages of a new district where there is plenty of air and sunshine and parks and schools."

Foreign Appreciation.

The London Architect concludes a very thoughtful and extended consideration of the new San Francisco with this paragraph:

"In the earthquake at Lisbon in 1775 it was found that the most solid buildings were the first to fall. Every parish church, convent, nunnery and public edifice was either thrown down or shattered. Both the king and the people were in such despair that a long time must have elapsed before any efforts were made for the removal of the ruins if it were not for the extraordinary energy of Pombal, the minister. It now seems mysterious that Pompeii, which at one time was believed to be essential to the existence of well-to-do Romans, was allowed to remain for nearly seventeen hundred years without any effort to remove the lava. Some of the inhabitants may have returned in order to carry off such treasures as were obtainable. But no attempt was made to restore the city. With all their energy the Romans seem to have been paralyzed by the spectacle, or to have accepted it as if it were an inevitable fatality for which there was no remedy. At the time of the fire of London, which foreigners seemed to think was a judgment from Heaven, the citizens made no efforts to quench it, but ran about screaming as if they were distracted. If it were not for the garrulous Pepys, who wrung from the king authority to pull down houses in order to isolate the fire, the destruction would have been far greater. With such examples before us the conduct of the Americans becomes heroic, and demonstrates at least that the vigor of some races of humanity has not deteriorated under modern influences."

A Bronx Opportunity.

Building operations in the Bronx this spring have presented a noteworthy feature in that they have shown a decrease in the amount of flat and apartment house construction and a corresponding increase in the number of plans filed for one and two-family houses costing from $3,000 to $7,500.

From recent statistics of the Building Department in the Bronx, for four successive weeks, it appears that out of a total of 157 projected structures, 102 are one and two-family dwellings.

Values established in the older parts of the Bronx during the speculative period of eighteen months ago have been sustained to a remarkable degree, but that the present demand is for low-priced lots is shown by the large proportion of current buying in the outlying parts of the borough, where low prices, within the means of the small individual purchaser, still prevail.

The first sale of property of this character announced for the near future is that of the tract of 336 lots on the Eastern Boulevard, opposite the Westchester Country Club, and owned for many years by the Sisters of St. Vincent de Paul. Topographically, this property is in all respects similar to the Country Club's tract—selected by a score of wealthy people for their villa sites—which is a sufficient recommendation of it from the point of view of natural surroundings. Pelham Bay Park, the largest of the city's pleasure grounds, is within a few minutes walk. The property is now accessible by the West Farms road trolley line from the subway station at 177th st and also from the Simpson st station by trolley along Westchester av. Waterbury av, which intersects the tract, is a continuation of Westchester av, and is included in the approved route of the extension of the subway out Westchester av and through Westchester Village, with a terminus at the Eastern Boulevard and Pelham road. The sale will be conducted by Auctioneer John L. Parish in the Vesey Street Salesroom on Tuesday, May 22.

The New Auction Rule.

As no remonstrance has been heard against the action of the Real Estate Auctioneers' Association, in increasing the knock-down fee for property bid in, it is presumed that the new rule is generally acceptable. It is pointed out that it does not forbid property from being bought in, as it is realized that circumstances often times compel owners to protect themselves; but the ruling of the board implies an intention not to encourage the exception to become the rule. The fee in such cases will hereafter be ten dollars.

Speaking of the action of the association, Mr. R. E. Simon remarked this week that he believed the rule to be a good one, and thought the results would be beneficial. "There is a serious objection," added Mr. Simon, "to a large number of voluntary auction sales, for the purpose of either procuring a large price, or for the purpose of testing the market, to ascertain, or create an apparent, value for a piece of property. Those owners who offer their property at auction with the intention of letting it go at a reasonable figure, and one at which they feel the property should appeal to the purchaser, should be willing to chance the paying of an additional fee in case the property is not sold; and if an owner were deterred from offering his property because of this additional fee, it would be because he felt that the chances of his selling it were slight and the probabilities were that he would have to buy it in, in which case it would be better for the market were the property not offered."

THE REALM OF BUILDING

Labor Situation.

Open shop was proclaimed in the structural iron erecting trade this week by the National Erectors' Association, which action simply extends the condition that has been prevailing generally in New York to all other cities in the country. It is hoped by this measure to reassure real estate and investing interests of the stability of labor conditions in this line by a more perfect command of the working forces, and to put an end to embroilments and disruptions. With as good or better wages than have prevailed heretofore, it is believed by the employers that all well-meaning workmen will be satisfied to withdraw from the control of arbitrary leaders. The pronouncement reads in part as follows:

"The relations of the members of our association with the Bridge and Structural Ironworkers' Union have become so unsatisfactory that a renewal of them seems not only inadvisable but out of the question. At least, with the union as it is at present organized and managed.

"The association has therefore decided to conduct work on the open shop plan, making no discrimination between union and non-union men. This doesn't mean the open shop as generally understood; that is, the hiring of men by each employer for any wages he can get them for. The association has adopted a set of working rules, including a minimum scale of wages, hours, provisions for overtime, holidays, etc. These rules will be posted upon every job, and will become part of the contract of every man employed by any member of the association. In New York the scale is 56¼ cents an hour for an eight-hour day."

Bickerings between dual unions on the new Custom House are interfering with the dispatch of work in some lines, and involving the plastering, painting, plumbing and electrical work. Otherwise peace, or what is a splendid imitation of it, prevails in New York. The troubles that at rare intervals occur are, compared to what business used to suffer from, of slight consequence.
